Determining means for disinfecting, etc.

ART. 177.—Chaque Gouvernement déterminera les moyens à employer pour opérer la désinfection et la destruction des rats (1).

ARTICLE 177. Each Government shall determine the means to be employed for disinfection and for the destruction of rats.<sup>a</sup>

(1) Les moyens de désinfection suivants sont donnés à titre d'indications:

Les hardes, vieux chiffons, pansements infectés, les papiers et autres objets sans valeur doivent être détruits par le feu.

Les effets à usage individuel, les objets de literie, les matelas souillés par le bacille pesteux sont sûrement désinfectés:

Par le passage à l'étuve à vapeur sous pression ou à l'étuve à vapeur fluente à 100 degrés.

Par l'exposition aux vapeurs de formol.

Les objets qui peuvent, sans détérioration, être trempés dans des solutions antiseptiques (couvertures, linges, draps de lit) peuvent être désinfectés au moyen des solutions de sublimé à 1 p. 1,000, d'acide phénique à 3 p. 100, de lysol et de crétyl commercial à 3 p. 100, de formol à 1 p. 100 (une partie de la solution commerciale de formaldéhyde à 40 p. 100), ou au moyen des hypochlorites alcalins (de soude, de potasse) à 1 p. 100, c'est-à-dire 1 partie de la solution usuelle d'hypochlorite commercial.

Il va sans dire que le temps de contact doit être assez long pour que les germes

Old clothing, old rags, infected materials used in dressing wounds, paper, and other objects without value should be destroyed by fire.

Wearing apparel, bedding, and mattresses contaminated by plague bacilli are positively disinfected—

By passing them through a disinfecting chamber using steam under pressure, or through a chamber with flowing steam at 100° C.

By exposure to vapors of formol.

Objects which may, without damage, be immersed in antiseptic solutions (bed covers, underclothes, sheets) may be disinfected by means of solutions of sublimate in the proportion of 1 per 1,000, of phenic acid in the proportion of 3 per 100, of lysol and commercial cresyl in the proportion of 3 per 100, of formol in the proportion of 1 per 100 (one part of the commercial solution of formaldehyde in the proportion of 40 per 100), or by means of alkaline hypochlorites (of soda, potassium) in the proportion of 1 per 100, that is, one part of the usual commercial hypochlorite.

ART. 178.—Le produit des taxes et des amendes sanitaires ne peut, en aucun cas, être employé à des objets autres que ceux relevant des Conseils sanitaires.

ART. 179. Les Hautes Parties Contractantes s'engagent à faire rédiger par leurs Administrations sanitaires une instruction destinée à mettre les capitaines des navires, surtout lorsqu'il n'y a pas de médecin à bord, en mesure d'appliquer les prescriptions contenues dans la présente Convention en ce qui concerne la peste et le choléra, ainsi que les règlements relatifs à la fièvre jaune.

ART. 180.—Les frais de construction et d'entretien de la station sanitaire, dont la création à l'île d'Ormuz est prescrite par l'article 81 de la présente Convention, sont mis à la charge du Conseil supérieur de santé de Constantinople. La Commission mixte de révision dudit Conseil devra se réunir le plus tôt pos-desséchés soient bien pénétrés par les solutions antiseptiques. Quatre à six heures suffisent.

Pour la destruction des rats, trois procédés sont actuellement mis en pratique:

1° Celui à l'acide sulfureux mélangé d'une petite quantité d'anhydride sulfurique, propulsé sous pression dans les cales, avec brassage de l'air, qui fait périr les rats et les insectes et détruirait en même temps les bacilles pesteux lorsque la teneur en anhydride sulfureux-sulfurique est assez élevée.

2° Le procédé qui envoie dans les cales un mélange non combustible de protoxyde et de dioxyde de carbone.

3° Le procédé qui utilise l'acide carbonique de façon que la teneur de ce gaz dans l'air du navire soit de 30 p. 100 environ.

Ces deux derniers procédés font périr les rongeurs sans avoir la prétention de tuer les insectes et les bacilles de la peste.

La Commission technique de la Conférence sanitaire de Paris (1903) a indiqué les trois procédés ci-après:

mélange d'anhydrides sulfureux-sulfurique, mélange d'oxyde de carbone et d'acide carbonique, acide carbonique, parmi ceux auxquels les Gouvernements pourraient avoir recours, et elle a été d'avis que, dans le cas où ils ne seraient pas mis en œuvre par l'administration sanitaire elle-même, celle-ci devrait contrôler chaque opération et constater que la destruction des rats a été réalisée.

ARTICLE 178. The proceeds from the sanitary taxes and fines shall in no case be employed for objects other than those within the scope of the Boards of Health.

ARTICLE 179. The High Contracting Parties agree to have a set of instructions prepared by their health departments for the purpose of enabling captains of vessels, especially when there is no physician on board, to enforce the provisions contained in the present convention with regard to plague and cholera, as well as the regulations relative to yellow fever.

V.—The Persian Gulf.

ARTICLE 180. The expenses of construction and maintenance of the sanitary station whose creation at the Island of Ormuz is provided for by Article 81 of the present convention shall be borne by the Superior Board of Health of Constantinople. The mixed committee of revision of the said Board shall meet as soon as possidried up germs to be penetrated by the antiseptic solutions, four to six hours being sufficient.

For the destruction of rats three methods are at present employed:

1. That using sulphurous acid mixed with a small quantity of sulphuric anhydride, which is forced under pressure into the holds, stirring the air up. This causes the death of the rats and insects, and destroys the plague bacilli at the same time when the content of sulphuro-sulphuric anhydride is sufficiently great.

2. The process by which a noncombustible mixture of carbon monoxid and carbon dioxid is sent into the holds.

3. The process which utilizes carbonic acid in such a way that the content of this gas in the air of the vessel is about 30 per cent.

The last two procedures cause the death of the rodents, but are not claimed to kill the insects and plague bacilli.

The technical committee of the Paris Sanitary Conference of 1903 suggested the following three remedies, viz, a mixture of sulphuro-sulphuric anhydride, a mixture of carbon monoxid and carbonic acid, and carbonic acid, as being among those to which the governments might have recourse, and it was of opinion that, in case they were not used by the health department itself, the latter ought to supervise each operation and ascertain that the rats have been destroyed.

Ces bulletins devront être transmis à des intervalles plus rapprochés lorsque, à raison de circonstances spéciales, le Conseil Sanitaire, Maritime et Quarantenaire en fera la demande.

De son côté, le Conseil Sanitaire, Maritime et Quarantenaire communiquera au Conseil de santé et d'hygiène publique les décisions qu'il aura prises et les renseignements qu'il aura reçus de l'étranger.

Les Gouvernements adressent au Conseil, s'ils le jugent à propos, le bulletin sanitaire de leur pays et lui signalent, dès leur apparition, les épidémies et les épizooties.

ART. 5.

Le Conseil Sanitaire, Maritime et Quarantenaire s'assure de l'état sanitaire du pays et envoie des commissions d'inspection partout où il le juge nécessaire.

Le Conseil de santé et d'hygiène publique sera avisé de l'envoi de ces commissions et devra s'employer à faciliter l'accomplissement de leur mandat.

ART. 6.

Le Conseil arrête les mesures préventives ayant pour objet d'empêcher l'introduction en Égypte, par les frontières maritimes ou les frontières du désert, des maladies épidémiques ou des épizooties, et détermine les points où devront être installés les campements provisoires et les établissements permanents quarantentaires.

ART. 7.

Il formule l'annotation à inscrire sur la patente délivrée par les offices sanitaires aux navires en partance.

ART. 11.

Les décisions prises par le Conseil Sanitaire, Maritime et Quarantenaire sont communiquées au Ministère de l'Intérieur; il en sera également donné connaissance au Ministère des Affaires étrangères, qui les notifiera, s'il y a lieu, aux agences et consulats généraux.

Toutefois, le Président du Conseil est autorisé à correspondre directement avec les Autorités consulaires des villes maritimes pour les affaires courantes du service.

ART. 12.

Le Président, et, en cas d'absence ou d'empêchement de celui-ci, l'Inspecteur général du Service Sanitaire, Maritime et Quarantenaire est chargé d'assurer l'exécution des décisions du Conseil.

A cet effet, il correspond directement avec tous les agents du Service Sanitaire, Maritime et Quarantenaire, et avec les diverses Autorités du pays. Il dirige, d'après les avis du Conseil, la police sanitaire des ports, les établissements maritimes quarantentaires et les stations quarantentaires du désert.

Enfin il expédie les affaires courantes.

ART. 13.

L'Inspecteur général sanitaire, les directeurs des offices sanitaires, les médecins des stations sanitaires et campements quarantentaires doivent être choisis parmi les médecins régulièrement diplômés, soit par une Faculté de médecine européenne, soit par l'État.

Il dresse sur chaque affaire un rapport et le soumet à l'appréciation du Conseil, réuni en assemblée générale. Les Délégués seront renouvelés tous les ans. Ils sont rééligibles.

La décision du Conseil est, par les soins de son Président, soumise à la sanction du Ministre de l'Intérieur.

Le Comité de discipline peut infliger, sans consulter le Conseil: 1° le blâme; 2° la suspension du traitement jusqu'à un mois.

Ceux-ci se conforment, en ce qui concerne la comptabilité et la tenue des livres, aux règlements généraux établis par le Ministère des Finances.

Les agents comptables adressent leur comptabilité et le produit de leurs perceptions à la Présidence du Conseil.

et de trois Délégués des Puissances élus par le Conseil. Il prend le titre de "Comité des Finances." Les trois Délégués des Puissances sont renouvelés tous les ans. Ils sont rééligibles.

Ce Comité fixe, sauf ratification par le Conseil, le traitement des employés de tout grade; il décide les dépenses fixes et les dépenses imprévues. Tous les trois mois, dans une séance spéciale, il fait au Conseil un rapport détaillé de sa gestion. Dans les trois mois qui suivront l'expiration de l'année budgétaire, le Conseil, sur la proposition du Comité, arrête le bilan définitif et le transmet, par l'entremise de son Président, au Ministère de l'Intérieur.

Le Conseil prépare le budget de ses recettes et celui de ses dépenses. Ce budget sera arrêté par le Conseil des Ministres, en même temps que le budget général de l'Etat, à titre de budget annexe. Dans le cas où le chiffre des dépenses excéderait le chiffre des recettes, le déficit sera comblé par les ressources générales de l'Etat. Toutefois, le Conseil devra étudier sans retard les moyens d'équilibrer les recettes et les dépenses. Ses propositions seront, par les soins du Président, transmises au Ministre de l'Intérieur. ## ART. 25.

Le Président est tenu d'ordonner que le vote aura lieu au scrutin secret, toutes les fois que trois membres du Conseil en font la demande. Le vote au scrutin secret est obligatoire toutes les fois qu'il s'agit du choix des Délégués des Puissances pour faire partie du Comité de discipline ou du Comité des Finances et lorsqu'il s'agit de nomination, révocation, mutation ou avancement dans le personnel.

ART. 26.

DÉCRET KHÉDIVIAL DU 25 DÉCEMBRE 1894.

Nous, Khédive d'Égypte,
Sur la proposition de Notre Ministre des Finances et l'avis conforme de Notre Conseil des Ministres;

Vu l'avis conforme de MM. les Commissaires-Directeurs de la Caisse de la dette publique en ce qui concerne l'article 7;

Avec l'assentiment des Puissances,

Décrétons:

ARTICLE PREMIER.

A partir de l'exercice financier 1894, il sera prélevé annuellement sur les recettes actuelles des droits de phare, une somme de 40,000 L. E., qui sera employée comme il est expliqué dans les articles suivants.

ART. 2.

La somme prélevée en 1894 sera affectée: 1<sup>o</sup> à combler le déficit éventuel de l'exercice financier 1894 du Conseil quarantenaire, au cas où ce déficit n'aurait pas pu être entièrement couvert avec les ressources provenant du fonds de réserve dudit Conseil, ainsi qu'il sera dit à l'article qui suit; 2<sup>o</sup> à faire face aux dépenses extraordinaires nécessitées par l'aménagement des établissements sanitaires d'El Tor, de Suez et des Sources de Moïse.

ART. 3.

Le fonds de réserve actuel du Conseil quarantenaire sera employé à combler le déficit de l'exercice 1894, sans que ce fonds puisse être réduit à une somme inférieure à 10,000 L. E.

Si le déficit ne se trouve pas entièrement couvert, il y sera fait face, pour le reste, avec les ressources créées à l'article premier.

ART. 4.

Sur la somme de L. E. 80,000, provenant des exercices 1895 et 1896, il sera prélevé: 1° une somme égale à celle qui aura été payée en 1894 sur les mêmes recettes, à valoir sur le déficit de ladite année 1894, de manière à porter à L. E. 40,000 le montant des sommes affectées aux travaux extraordinaires prévus à l'article 1<sup>er</sup> pour El Tor, Suez et les Sources de Moïse; 2° les sommes nécessaires pour combler le déficit du budget du Conseil quarantenaire, pour les exercices financiers 1895 et 1896.

Le surplus, après le prélèvement ci-dessus, sera affecté à la construction de nouveaux phares dans la Mer Rouge.

ART. 5.

A partir de l'exercice financier 1897, cette somme annuelle de L. E. 40,000 sera affectée à combler les déficits éventuels du Conseil quarantenaire. Le montant de la somme nécessaire à cet effet sera arrêté définitivement en prenant pour base les résultats financiers des exercices 1894 et 1895 du Conseil.

Le surplus sera affecté à une réduction des droits de phares: il est entendu que ces droits seront réduits dans la même proportion dans la Mer Rouge et dans la Méditerranée.

ART. 6.

Moyennant les prélèvements et affectations ci-dessus, le Gouvernement est, à partir de l'année 1894, déchargé de toute obligation quelconque en ce qui concerne les dépenses soit ordinaires, soit extraordinaires du Conseil quarantenaire.

Il est entendu, toutefois, que les dépenses supportées jusqu'à ce jour par le Gouvernement Égyptien continueront à rester à sa charge.

ART. 7.

A partir de l'exercice 1894, lors du règlement de compte des excédents avec la Caisse de la Dette publique, la part de ces excédents revenant au Gouvernement sera majorée d'une somme annuelle de 20,000 L. E.

ART. 8.

Il a été convenu entre le Gouvernement Égyptien et les Gouvernements d'Allemagne, de Belgique, de Grande-Bretagne et d'Italie que la somme affectée à la réduction des droits de phares, aux termes de l'article 5 du présent décret, viendra en déduction de celle de 40,000 L. E. prévue dans les lettres annexées aux Conventions Commerciales intervenues entre l'Égypte et lesdits Gouvernements.

ART. 9.

Notre Ministre des Finances est chargé de l'exécution du présent décret.
Fait au Palais de Koubbeh, le 25 décembre 1894.

Les décisions sont immédiatement communiquées par lettres à tous les membres du Conseil.

Cette Commission sera renouvelée tous les 3 mois.

ART. 5.

Il contrôle, sous la direction du Comité des finances, les opérations des préposés à la recette des droits sanitaires et quarantenaires.

Il dresse les états et comptes qui doivent être transmis au Ministère de l'Intérieur après avoir été arrêtés par le Comité des finances et approuvés par le Conseil.

DE L'INSPECTEUR GÉNÉRAL SANITAIRE.

ART. 9.

L'Inspecteur général sanitaire a la surveillance de tous les services dépendant du Conseil. Il exerce cette surveillance dans les conditions prévues par l'article 19 du Décret en date du 19 juin 1893.

Il inspecte, au moins une fois par an, chacun des offices, agences ou postes sanitaires.

En outre, le Président détermine, sur la proposition du Conseil et selon les besoins du service, les inspections auxquelles l'Inspecteur général devra procéder.

En cas d'empêchement de l'Inspecteur général, le Président désignera, d'accord avec le Conseil, le fonctionnaire appelé à le suppléer.

Chaque fois que l'Inspecteur général a visité un office, une agence, un poste sanitaire, une station sanitaire ou un campement quarantenaire, il doit rendre compte à la Présidence du Conseil, par un rapport spécial, des résultats de sa vérification.

Dans l'intervalle de ses tournées, l'Inspecteur général prend part, sous l'autorité du Président, à la direction du service général. Il supplée le Président en cas d'absence ou d'empêchement.

TITRE II.—Service des ports, stations quaranténaires, stations sanitaires.

ART. 10.

La police sanitaire, maritime et quarantenaire, le long du littoral égyptien de la Méditerranée et de la Mer Rouge, aussi bien que sur les frontières de terre du côté du désert, est confiée aux directeurs des offices de santé, directeurs des stations sanitaires ou campements quaranténaires, chefs des agences sanitaires ou chefs des postes sanitaires et aux employés placés sous leurs ordres.

ART. 11.

Les directeurs des offices de santé ont la direction et la responsabilité du service, tant de l'office à la tête duquel ils sont placés que des postes sanitaires qui en dépendent.

Ils doivent veiller à la stricte exécution des règlements de police sanitaire, maritime et quarantenaire. Ils se conforment aux instructions qu'ils reçoivent de la Présidence du Conseil et donnent à tous les employés de leur office, aussi bien qu'aux employés des postes sanitaires qui y sont rattachés, les ordres et les instructions nécessaires.

Ils sont chargés de la reconnaissance et de l'arraisonnement des navires, de l'application des mesures quaranténaires, et ils procèdent, dans les cas prévus par les règlements, à la visite médicale, ainsi qu'aux enquêtes sur les contraventions quaranténaires.

Ils correspondent seuls pour les affaires administratives avec la Présidence, à laquelle ils transmettent tous les renseignements sanitaires qu'ils ont recueillis dans l'exercice de leurs fonctions.

ART. 12.

Les directeurs des offices de santé sont, au point de vue du traitement, divisés en deux classes:

Les offices de première classe, qui sont au nombre de quatre:

Alexandrie;

Port-Saïd;

Bassin de Suez et campement aux Sources de Moïse;

Tor.

Les offices de deuxième classe, qui sont au nombre de trois:

Damiette;

Souakim;

Kosseir.

ART. 13.

Les chefs des agences sanitaires ont les mêmes attributions, en ce qui concerne l'agence, que les directeurs en ce qui concerne leur office.

ART. 14.

Il y a une seule agence sanitaire à El Ariche.

ART. 15.

Les chefs de postes sanitaires ont sous leurs ordres les employés du poste qu'ils dirigent. Ils sont placés sous les ordres du directeur d'un des offices de santé.

Ils sont chargés de l'exécution des mesures sanitaires et quaranténaires indiquées par les règlements.

Ils ne peuvent délivrer aucune patente et ne sont autorisés à viser que les patentes des bâtiments partant en libre pratique.

Ils obligent les navires qui arrivent à leur échelle avec une patente brute ou dans des conditions irrégulières à se rendre dans un port où existe un office sanitaire.

Ils ne peuvent eux-mêmes procéder aux enquêtes sanitaires, mais ils doivent appeler à cet effet le directeur de l'office dont ils relèvent.

En dehors des cas d'urgence absolue, ils ne correspondent qu'avec ce directeur pour toutes les affaires administratives. Pour les affaires sanitaires et quaranténaires urgentes, telles que les mesures à prendre au sujet d'un navire arrivant, ou l'annotation à inscrire sur la patente d'un navire en partance, ils correspondent directement avec la Présidence du Conseil; mais ils doivent donner sans retard communication de cette correspondance au directeur dont ils dépendent.

Ils sont tenus d'aviser, par les voies les plus rapides, la Présidence du Conseil des naufrages dont ils auront connaissance.

ART. 16.

Les postes sanitaires sont au nombre de six énumérés ci-après:

Postes du Port-Neuf, d'Aboukir, Brullos et Rosette, relevant de l'office d'Alexandrie.

Postes de Kantara et du port intérieur d'Ismailia, relevant de l'office de Port-Saïd. Le Conseil pourra, suivant les nécessités du service, et suivant ses ressources, créer de nouveaux postes sanitaires.

ART. 17.

Le service permanent ou provisoire des stations sanitaires et les campements quaranténaires est confié à des directeurs qui ont sous leurs ordres des employés sanitaires, des gardiens, des portefaix et des gens de service.

ART. 18.

Les directeurs sont chargés de faire subir la quarantaine aux personnes envoyées à la station sanitaire ou au campement. Ils veillent, de concert avec les médecins, à l'isolement des différentes catégories de quaranténaires et empêchent toute compromission. A l'expiration du délai fixé, ils donnent la libre pratique ou la suspendent conformément aux règlements, font pratiquer la désinfection des marchandises et des effets à usage, et appliquent la quarantaine aux gens employés à cette opération.

ART. 19.

Ils exercent une surveillance constante sur l'exécution des mesures prescrites, ainsi que sur l'état de santé des quaranténaires et du personnel de l'établissement.

ART. 20.

Ils sont responsables de la marche du service et en rendent compte, dans un rapport journalier, à la Présidence du Conseil Sanitaire, Maritime et Quarantenaire.

ART. 21.

Les médecins attachés aux stations sanitaires et aux campements quaranténaires relèvent des directeurs de ces établissements. Ils ont sous leurs ordres le pharmacien et les infirmiers.

Ils surveillent l'état de santé des quaranténaires et du personnel, et dirigent l'infirmierie de la station sanitaire ou du campement.

La libre pratique ne peut être donnée aux personnes en quarantaine qu'après visite et rapport favorable du médecin.

ART. 22.

Dans chaque office sanitaire, station sanitaire ou campement quarantenaire, le directeur est aussi "agent comptable."

Il désigne, sous sa responsabilité personnelle effective, l'employé préposé à l'encaissement des droits sanitaires et quaranténaires.

Les chefs d'agences ou postes sanitaires sont également agents comptables; ils sont chargés personnellement d'effectuer la perception des droits.

Les agents chargés du recouvrement des droits doivent se conformer, pour les garanties à présenter, la tenue des écritures, l'époque des versements, et généralement tout ce qui concerne la partie financière de leur service, aux règlements émanant du Ministère des Finances.

ART. 23.

Les dépenses du Service Sanitaire, Maritime et Quarantenaire seront acquittées par les moyens propres du Conseil, ou d'accord avec le Ministère des Finances, par le service des caisses qu'il désignera.

Le Caire, le 19 juin 1893.

M. le Comte de Groeben, premier Délégué d'Allemagne, lit la déclaration suivante:

"Tout en autorisant les Délégués d'Allemagne à signer la Convention, le Gouvernement Impérial leur a donné l'instruction de faire la déclaration suivante:

1<sup>o</sup> Art. 15, 3<sup>o</sup>.—"Le Gouvernement allemand aime à espérer que dans la réglementation relative au tarif de dératisation, tous les Gouvernements seront d'accord pour éviter, dans leurs tarifs spéciaux, une surcharge des frais de dératisation, dans le cas où elle sera effectuée par une société ou par un particulier.

2<sup>o</sup> Art. 24, I, a.—"De ce que, dans l'article 24, I, § a, il est seulement question du terme "objets," on ne doit pas conclure que, sur les autres navires (voir les articles 21, 22, 26 et 27), la désinfection des objets ne serait également pas admise.

"L'article 12, réglant la désinfection des objets, doit être considéré comme applicable à tous les navires.

3<sup>o</sup> Art. 181 et Annexe III.—"Le Gouvernement impérial renouvelle les réserves faites par sa Délégation dans la Commission des voies et moyens, à l'égard d'un tel établissement."

La Conférence donne acte de cette déclaration.

Chérif Pacha, premier Délégué d'Égypte, indique que, tout en signant la Convention ad referendum, les Plénipotentiaires égyptiens ont le devoir de faire connaître que le Gouvernement khédivial n'est pas en mesure d'accepter les dispositions de l'article 163.

La Conférence donne acte de cette déclaration.

M. le Baron de Welderen Rengers, premier Délégué des Pays-Bas, donne lecture de la communication ci-après:

"La Délégation néerlandaise est autorisée à signer la présente Convention en déclarant que son Gouvernement interprète l'article 169 de la Convention de telle façon qu'il aura le droit de nommer, pour le cas où son Délégué actuel ne sera plus en fonctions, comme Délégué au Conseil supérieur de santé de Constantinople, soit un médecin régulièrement diplômé néerlandais, soit un fonctionnaire consulaire du grade de Vice-Consul au moins, quel que soit le pays que ce dernier représente ou la nationalité à laquelle il appartient."

La Conférence donne acte de cette déclaration.

M. de Bunsen, premier Délégué de la Grande-Bretagne, fait la déclaration suivante:

"Tout en autorisant les Délégués de la Grande-Bretagne à signer la Convention, le Gouvernement de Sa Majesté britannique leur a donné l'instruction de faire en son nom la déclaration suivante:

"En ce qui concerne la question d'un Office international de santé (art. 181 et annexe III de la Convention), le Gouvernement de Sa Majesté renouvelle les réserves faites par sa Délégation dans la Commission des voies et moyens, sur l'utilité d'un tel établissement.

"En ce qui concerne les articles 81, 82 et 180 (station sanitaire d'Ormuz), il renouvelle la déclaration faite par sa Délégation à la sixième séance plénière de la Conférence, en y ajoutant les réserves suivantes, qu'il attache également à son acceptation desdits articles:

"Qu'il soit bien entendu: 1<sup>o</sup> que la Commission mixte pour la revision des tarifs sanitaires ne soit autorisée à statuer sur la provenance des fonds pour la construction de ladite station qu'avec l'assentiment de tous ses membres, et 2<sup>o</sup> qu'on ne procède à l'établissement de la dite station qu'après la réorganisation du Conseil supérieur de santé de Constantinople, conformément aux prescriptions de la présente Convention.

“Les Plénipotentiaires britanniques déclarent en outre que les stipulations de la présente Convention ne seront applicables à aucune des colonies, possessions ou protectorats de Sa Majesté britannique qu'après notification à cet effet adressée par le Représentant de Sa Majesté britannique à Paris au Ministre des Affaires étrangères de la République française, au nom de telle colonie, possession ou protectorat.

“Il est entendu par le Gouvernement britannique que le droit de dénonciation de la présente Convention, ainsi que le droit des Puissances de se concerter pour l'introduction de modifications dans le texte de la Convention, subsiste, ainsi qu'il résultait de la Convention de Venise de 1897.

“En ce qui concerne les frais de dératisation, lorsque cette mesure est exécutée par une société ou par un individu, la Délégation d'Angleterre s'associe au vœu que vient d'émettre la Délégation d'Allemagne.”

La Conférence donne acte de cette déclaration.

M. de Piza, Délégué du Brésil, annonce qu'il signera la Convention ad referendum.

M. de Suzzara, Délégué d'Autriche-Hongrie, lit la déclaration ci-après, dont la Conférence lui donne acte:

MM. les Délégués des États-Unis d'Amérique se déclarent prêts à signer la Convention ad referendum, en faisant seulement des réserves quant à la substitution de la surveillance à l'observation, en raison de la législation particulière des différents États de l'Union.

La Conférence donne acte de cette déclaration.

M. Popovitch, Délégué de Serbie, fait connaître qu'il est en mesure de signer la Convention ad referendum.

Sous le bénéfice des déclarations qui précèdent, la Convention est signée par les Délégués munis des pleins pouvoirs nécessaires.

M. le Président donne ensuite lecture du vœu suivant, qui a été émis par la Conférence en ce qui concerne le pèlerinage marocain:

En foi de quoi, les soussignés, Délégués à la Conférence sanitaire internationale de Paris, ont signé le présent Procès-verbal, auquel une copie authentique de la Convention sera annexée.

Convention between the United States and Mexico for the elimination of the Bancos in the Rio Grande from the effects of Article II of the Treaty of November 12, 1884. Signed at Washington, March 20, 1905; ratification advised by the Senate February 28, 1907; ratified by the President March 13, 1907; ratified by Mexico March 15, 1907; ratifications exchanged at Washington May 31, 1907; proclaimed June 5, 1907.

March 20, 1905.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas a Convention between the United States of America and the United States of Mexico, providing for eliminating the bancos in the Rio Grande from the effects of Article II of the Treaty of November 12, 1884, was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at Washington on the 20th day of March, one thousand nine hundred and five, the original of which Convention being in the English and Spanish languages is word for word as follows:

Mexican Boundary.
Preamble.
Vol. 24, p. 1012.

Whereas, for the purpose of obviating the difficulties arising from the application of Article V of the Treaty of Guadalupe - Hidalgo, dated February 2, 1848, and Article I of the Treaty of December 30, 1853, both concluded between the United States of America and Mexico—difficulties growing out of the frequent changes to which the beds of the Rio Grande and Colorado River are subject—there was signed in Washington on November 12, 1884, by the Plenipotentiaries of the United States and Mexico, a convention containing the following stipulations:

Por cuanto con el objeto de evitar las dificultades que resultaban de la aplicación de los artículos V del Tratado de Guadalupe Hidalgo, del 2 de Febrero de 1848, y I del Tratado del 30 de Diciembre de 1853, celebrados entre los Estados Unidos de América y México, dificultades originadas por los frecuentes cambios á que en su cauce están sujetos los ríos Bravo y Colorado, se firmó en Washington en 12 de Noviembre de 1884 por los Plenipotenciarios de los Estados Unidos y de México, una Convención que contiene las siguientes estipulaciones:

Vol. 9, p. 926.

Vol. 10, p. 1032.

“ARTICLE I.—The dividing line shall forever be that described in the aforesaid Treaty and follow the center of the normal channel of the rivers named, notwithstanding any alterations in the banks or in the course of those rivers, provided that such alterations be effected by natural causes through the slow and gradual erosion and deposit of alluvium “ARTÍCULO I.—La línea divisoria será siempre la fijada en dicho Tratado, y seguirá el centro del canal normal de los citados ríos, á pesar de las alteraciones en las riberas ó en el curso de esos ríos, con tal que dichas alteraciones se efectúen por causas naturales como la corrosión lenta y gradual, y el depósito del aluvión, y nó por el abandono del canal exisand not by the abandonment of an existing river bed and the opening of a new one.

"ARTICLE II.—Any other change, wrought by the force of the current whether by the cutting of a new bed, or when there is more than one channel by the deepening of another channel than that which marked the boundary at the time of the survey made under the aforesaid Treaty, shall produce no change in the dividing line as fixed by the surveys of the International Boundary Commissions in 1852, but the line then fixed shall continue to follow the middle of the original channel bed, even though this should become wholly dry or be obstructed by deposits."

Vol. 26, p. 1513.

Whereas, as a result of the topographical labors of the Boundary Commission created by the Convention of March 1, 1889, it has been observed that there is a typical class of changes effected in the bed of the Rio Grande, in which, owing to slow and gradual erosion, coupled with avulsion, said river abandons its old channel and there are separated from it small portions of land known as "bancos" bounded by the said old bed, and which, according to the terms of Article II of the aforementioned Convention of 1884, remain subject to the dominion and jurisdiction of the country from which they have been separated;

Vol. 24, p. 1012.

Whereas, said "bancos" are left at a distance from the new river bed, and, by reason of the successive deposits of alluvium, the old channel is becoming effaced, the land of said "bancos" becomes confused with the land of the "bancos" contiguous thereto, thus giving rise to difficulties and controversies, some of an international and others of a private character;

Whereas, the labors of the International Boundary Commission, undertaken with the object of fixing the boundary line with reference to the "bancos," have demonstrated that the application tente del río y la apertura de uno nuevo.

"ARTÍCULO II.—Cualquiera otro cambio ocasionado por la fuerza de la corriente, ya sea abriendo un nuevo canal, ó en donde haya más de uno, haciendo más profundo otro canal que no sea el que se marcó como parte de la línea divisoria al tiempo del reconocimiento hecho conforme á dicho Tratado, no producirá alteración alguna en la línea divisoria tal como fué fijada por los reconocimientos de la Comisión Internacional de Límites en 1852; pero la línea fijada entonces, seguirá siendo el centro del canal original, aun cuando éste llegare á secarse del todo, ó á obstruirse por el aluvión."

Por cuanto en virtud de los trabajos topográficos de la Comisión de Límites creada por la Convención de 10 de Marzo de 1889, se ha observado que hay una clase típica de cambios efectuados en el cauce del río Bravo, en los cuales, á causa de la corrosión lenta y gradual, combinada con la avulsión, dicho río abandona su antiguo canal y se separan de él pequeñas porciones de terreno conocidas con el nombre de "bancos," limitadas por el referido antiguo cauce y que, según los términos del Artículo II de la expresada Convención de 1884, quedan sujetas al dominio y jurisdicción del país de donde han sido separadas;

Por cuanto dichos bancos quedan distantes del nuevo cauce del río y en razón de los depósitos sucesivos de aluvión se borra el antiguo canal, confundiendo el terreno de los mismos bancos con el de los colindantes y originándose dificultades y controversias, unas de orden internacional y otras de orden privado;

Por cuanto los trabajos de la Comisión Internacional de Límites, emprendidos con el objeto de fijar la línea divisoria con relación á los bancos, han demostrado que la aplicación á éstos del prin-to these "bancos" of the principle established in Article II of the Convention of 1884 renders difficult the solution of the controversies mentioned, and, instead of simplifying, complicates the said boundary line between the two countries:

Therefore, the Governments of the United States of America and the United States of Mexico, being desirous to enter into a convention to establish more fitting rules for the solution of such difficulties, have appointed as their Plenipotentiaries—

That of the United States of America, Alvey A. Adee, Acting Secretary of State of the United States;

That of the United States of Mexico, its Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary, Licenciado Don Manuel de Azpíroz;

Who, after exhibiting their full powers, found to be in good and due form, have agreed to the following articles:

ARTICLE I.

The fifty-eight (58) bancos surveyed and described in the report of the consulting engineers, dated May 30, 1898, to which reference is made in the record of proceedings of the International Boundary Commission, dated June 14, 1898, and which are drawn on fifty-four (54) maps on a scale of one to five thousand (1 to 5,000), and three index maps, signed by the Commissioners and by the Plenipotentiaries appointed by the convention, are hereby eliminated from the effects of Article II of the Treaty of November 12, 1884.

Within the part of the Rio Grande comprised between its mouth and its confluence with the San Juan River the boundary line between the two countries shall be the broken red line shown on the said maps—that is, it shall follow the deepest channel of the stream—and the dominion and jurisdiction of so many of the aforesaid fifty-eight (58) bancos as may remain on the right bank of the river shall pass to Mexico, and the dominion establecido en el artículo II de la Convención de 1884 hace difícil la solución de las mencionadas controversias, y en vez de simplificar, complica dicha línea divisoria entre los dos países:

Por tanto, los Gobiernos de los Estados Unidos de América y de los Estados Unidos de México, deseosos de celebrar una Convención que establezca reglas más acertadas para resolver tales dificultades, han nombrado como sus plenipotenciarios.

El de los Estados Unidos de América, á Alvey A. Adee, Secretario de Estado interino de los Estados Unidos;

El de los Estados Unidos de México á su Embajador Extraordinario y Plenipotenciario, Licenciado Don Manuel de Azpíroz;

Quienes despues de exhibir sus plenos poderes, que encontraron en buena y debida forma, han conenido en los artículos siguientes:

ARTÍCULO I.

Los cincuenta y ocho (58) bancos medidos y descritos en el informe de los Ingenieros Consultores, del 30 de Mayo de 1898, á que se refiere el acta de la Comisión Internacional de Límites del 14 de Junio de 1898, dibujados en cincuenta y cuatro (54) planos, en escala de uno á cinco mil (1 á 5,000), y tres planos índices, firmados por los Comisionados y por los Plenipotenciarios nombrados para esta Convención, quedan eliminados de los efectos del artículo II del Tratado del 12 de Noviembre de 1884.

La línea divisoria entre los dos países será, en el trayecto del río Bravo, comprendido entre su desembocadura y su confluencia con el río San Juan, la línea roja quebrada que consta en los expresados planos; esto es, seguirá por el canal más profundo de la corriente, y el dominio y jurisdicción de aquellos de los citados cincuenta y ocho (58) bancos que queden en la margen derecha del río pasarán á México; y el dominio y jurisdicand jurisdiction of those of the said fifty-eight (58) bancos which may remain on the left bank shall pass to the United States of America.

ARTICLE II.

Channel changes excepted.

The International Commission shall, in the future, be guided by the principle of elimination of the bancos established in the foregoing article, with regard to the labors concerning the boundary line throughout that part of the Rio Grande and the Colorado River which serves as a boundary between the two nations. There are hereby excepted from this provision the portions of land segregated by the change in the bed of the said rivers having an area of over two hundred and fifty (250) hectares, or a population of over two hundred (200) souls, and which shall not be considered as bancos for the purposes of this treaty and shall not be eliminated, the old bed of the river remaining, therefore, the boundary in such cases.

ARTICLE III.

Maps of changes.

With regard to the bancos which may be formed in future, as well as to those already formed but which are not yet surveyed, the Boundary Commission shall proceed to the places where they have been formed, for the purpose of duly applying Articles I and II of the present convention, and the proper maps shall be prepared in which the changes that have occurred shall be shown, in a manner similar to that employed in the preparation of the maps of the aforementioned fifty-eight (58) bancos.

Monuments to be established.

As regards these bancos, as well as those already formed but not surveyed, and those that may be formed in future, the Commission shall mark on the ground, with suitable monuments, the bed abandoned by the river, so that the boundaries of the bancos shall be clearly defined.

Abandoned channels.

On all separated land on which the successive alluvium deposits have caused to disappear those ción de aquellos de los citados cincuenta y ocho (58) bancos que queden en la margen izquierda, pasarán á los Estados Unidos de América.

ARTÍCULO II.

En lo de adelante, para los trabajos relativos á la línea divisoria, en toda la parte de los ríos Bravo y Colorado que sirve de límite entre las dos naciones, la Comisión Internacional se regirá por el principio de eliminación de los bancos, establecida en el artículo anterior. Quedan exceptuadas de tal principio las porciones de terreno segregadas por el cambio de cauce de dichos ríos que tengan una extensión de más de doscientas cincuenta (250) hectáreas ó una población de más de doscientas (200) almas y que no se considerarán como bancos para los efectos de este Tratado ni serán eliminadas, quedando por lo mismo, como límite en esos casos el antiguo cauce del río.

ARTÍCULO III.

Tanto respecto de los bancos que en adelante se formen como respecto de los ya formados, pero que aun no están medidos, la Comisión de Límites se trasladará al lugar donde se hubieren producido, para la debida aplicación de los artículos I y II de la presente Convención, levantándose los planos correspondientes, en que se señalarán los cambios ocurridos, de una manera análoga á la empleada en los planos formados con motivo de los expresados cincuenta y ocho (58) bancos.

En lo tocante á éstos, á los bancos ya formados y no medidos y á los que en adelante se formen, la Comisión marcará en el terreno, con monumentos adecuados, el cauce abandonado por el río, de manera que los linderos del banco queden perfectamente definidos.

En todo terreno segregado en que los aluviones sucesivos han hecho desaparecer las partes del parts of the abandoned channel which are adjacent to the river, each of the extremities of said channel shall be united by means of a straight line to the nearest part of the bank of the same river.

canal abandonado, adyacentes al río, cada uno de los extremos de dicho canal se unirá por medio de una línea recta al punto más inmediato de la margen del mismo río.

ARTICLE IV.

ARTÍCULO IV.

The citizens of either of the two contracting countries who, by virtue of the stipulations of this convention, shall in future be located on the land of the other may remain thereon or remove at any time to whatever place may suit them, and either keep the property which they possess in said territory or dispose of it. Those who prefer to remain on the eliminated bancos may either preserve the title and rights of citizenship of the country to which the said bancos formerly belonged, or acquire the nationality of the country to which they will belong in the future.

Los nacionales de cualquiera de los dos países contratantes que en virtud de las estipulaciones de esta Convención queden para lo futuro en terreno de la otra, podrán permanecer en él ó trasladarse en cualquier tiempo á donde mejor les convenga y conservar en dicho territorio los bienes que posean, ó bien enajenarlos. Los que prefieran permanecer en los bancos eliminados, podrán conservar el título y los derechos de nacionales del país á que antes pertenecían dichos bancos ó adquirir la nacionalidad de aquel á que van á pertenecer en lo de adelante.

Citizen and property rights preserved.

Property of all kinds situated on the said bancos shall be inviolably respected, and its present owners, their heirs, and those who may subsequently acquire the property legally, shall enjoy as complete security with respect thereto as if it belonged to citizens of the country where it is situated.

Las propiedades de todo género existentes en los referidos bancos serán respetadas inviolablemente y sus actuales dueños, sus herederos y los que en lo sucesivo adquirieran legalmente esas propiedades, disfrutarán respecto de ellas tan amplias garantías como si perteneciesen á nacionales del país donde están situadas.

ARTICLE V.

ARTÍCULO V.

This convention shall be ratified by the two high contracting parties in accordance with their respective Constitutions, and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Washington as soon as possible.

Esta Convención se ratificará por las dos Altas Partes Contratantes, de conformidad con sus respectivas Constituciones y las ratificaciones se canjearán en Washington tan pronto como sea posible.

Exchange of ratifications.

In witness whereof, we, the undersigned, by virtue of our respective powers, have signed the present convention, both in the English and Spanish languages, and have thereunto affixed our seals.

Ratifications.

And Whereas, the said Convention has been duly ratified on both parts, and the ratifications of the two Governments were exchanged at the City of Washington, on the 31st day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seven,

Ante, p. 1865.

And Whereas, by reason of circumstances unforeseen the Plenipotentiaries of the United States and Mexico who signed the said Convention omitted involuntarily to sign the maps mentioned in Article I thereof and which form a part of said Convention, and the maps were signed on November 14, 1905, by the Plenipotentiaries of the United States and Mexico in conformity with the authority conferred upon them by their respective Governments, as is evidenced by the Protocol of Signature, attached hereto:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

A PROCLAMATION.

Dominican Re-
revenue.
Preamble.

Whereas a convention between the United States of America and the Dominican Republic providing for the assistance of the United States in the collection and application of the customs revenues of the Dominican Republic, was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at the City of Santo Domingo, on the eighth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and seven, the original of which convention, being in the English and Spanish languages, is word for word as follows:

Whereas during disturbed political conditions in the Dominican Republic debts and claims have been created, some by regular and some by revolutionary governments, many of doubtful validity in whole or in part, and amounting in all to over $30,000,000, nominal or face value;

And Whereas the same conditions have prevented the peaceable and continuous collection and application of National revenues for payment of interest or principal of such debts or for liquidation and settlement of such claims; and the said debts and claims continually increase by accretion of interest and are a grievous burden upon the people of the Dominican Republic and a barrier to their improvement and prosperity;

And Whereas the Dominican Government has now effected a conditional adjustment and settlement of said debts and claims under which all its foreign creditors have agreed to accept about

Por cuanto, durante las condiciones de disturbios políticos en la República Dominicana se han originado deudas y reclamaciones, creadas unas por Gobiernos legales y otras, por Gobiernos revolucionarios, muchas de dudosa validez en todo ó en parte y montantes en total á mas de $30.000.000 oro de valor nominal;

Y por cuanto, ese estado de cosas ha impedido el cobro pacífico y continuado y la aplicación de las rentas de la nacion para el pago de intereses ó capital de dichas deudas ó para la liquidación y ajuste de dichas reclamaciones; y dichas deudas y reclamaciones van en continuo aumento por acumulacion de intereses y son una carga onerosa para el pueblo Dominicano y un obstáculo á su mejoramiento y prosperidad;

Y por cuanto, el Gobierno Dominicano acaba de llevar á efecto un ajuste y arreglo condicional de dichas deudas y reclamaciones de acuerdo con cuyos términos todos sus acreedores extranjeros $12,407,000 for debts and claims amounting to about $21,184,000 of nominal or face value, and the holders of internal debts or claims of about $2,028,258 nominal or face value have agreed to accept about $645,827 therefor, and the remaining holders of internal debts or claims on the same basis as the assents already given will receive about $2,400,000 therefor, which sum the Dominican Government has fixed and determined as the amount which it will pay to such remaining internal debt holders; making the total payments under such adjustment and settlement, including interest as adjusted and claims not yet liquidated, amount to not more than about $17,000,000.

And Whereas a part of such plan of settlement is the issue and sale of bonds of the Dominican Republic to the amount of $20,000,000 bearing five per cent interest payable in fifty years and redeemable after ten years at 102½ and requiring payment of at least one per cent per annum for amortization, the proceeds of said bonds, together with such funds as are now deposited for the benefit of creditors from customs revenues of the Dominican Republic heretofore received, after payment of the expenses of such adjustment, to be applied first to the payment of said debts and claims as adjusted and second out of the balance remaining to the retirement and extinction of certain concessions and harbor monopolies which are a burden and hindrance to the commerce of the country and third the entire balance still remaining to the construction of certain railroads and bridges and other public improvements necessary to the industrial development of the country;

And Whereas the whole of said plan is conditioned and dependent han convenido en aceptar unos $12.407.000 por deudas y reclamaciones ascendentes á unos $21.184.000, valor nominal, y los tenedores de reclamaciones y deudas interiores por valor nominal de $2.028.258 aproximadamente, han convenido en aceptar unos $645.827 por las mismas, y los demás tenedores de deudas ó reclamaciones interiores, según los mismos términos que han servido de base en las aceptaciones ya recibidas, percibirán unos $2.400.000 por aquellas, la cual suma el Gobierno Dominicano ha fijado y señalado como la que pagará á dichos tenedores restantes de la deuda interior; lo que hace ascender los pagos totales que hayan de efectuarse de acuerdo con dicho ajuste y arreglo, incluyendo el interés ajustado y las reclamaciones por liquidar, á no más de unos $17.000.000.

Y por cuanto, en dicho plan de arreglo entra la emision y venta de bonos de la República Dominicana por la cantidad de $20.000.000, devengando interés al tipo de cinco por ciento, que serán amortizados dentro de cincuenta años y redimibles transcurridos diez años al ciento dos y medio por ciento, y requiriendo el pago del uno por ciento por lo menos al año para amortización, debiendo ser aplicado el producto de dichos bonos junto con la cantidad que se halla depositada en favor de los acreedores, procedente de los ingresos de aduanas de la República Dominicana hasta la fecha recibidos, una vez pagados los gastos de dicho ajuste, primeramente al pago de dichas deudas y reclamaciones en los términos ajustados, y en segundo lugar, con el remanente, á cancelar y extinguir ciertas concesiones y monopolios en los puertos, que son una gravosa carga y un obstáculo al comercio del país, y en tercer término, el sobrante total que aun quede, á la construcción de ciertos ferrocarriles y puentes y otras obras públicas necesarias al desarrollo industrial del país.

Y por cuanto, dicho plan en su totalidad tiene por condición upon the assistance of the United States in the collection of customs revenues of the Dominican Republic and the application thereof so far as necessary to the interest upon and the amortization and redemption of said bonds, and the Dominican Republic has requested the United States to give and the United States is willing to give such assistance:

Agreement.

The Dominican Government, represented by its Minister of State for Foreign Relations, Emiliano Tejera, and its Minister of State for Finance and Commerce, Federico Velasquez H., and the United States Government, represented by Thomas C. Dawson, Minister Resident and Consul General of the United States to the Dominican Republic, have agreed:

First, to paying the expenses of the receivership; second, to the payment of interest upon said bonds; third, to the payment of the annual sums provided for amortization of said bonds including interest upon all bonds held in sinking fund; fourth, to the purchase and cancellation or the retirement and cancellation pursuant to the terms thereof of any of said bonds as may be directed by the Dominican Government; fifth, the remainder to be paid to the Dominican Government.

y depende de la ayuda de los Estados Unidos en la recaudacion de las rentas aduaneras de la República Dominicana y en la aplicación de ellas hasta donde fuere necesario al pago de los intereses, amortizacion y redencion de los referidos bonos, y que la República Dominicana ha solicitado de los Estados Unidos dicha ayuda y que los Estados Unidos convienen en prestarla:

El Gobierno Dominicano representado por el Secretario de Estado de Relaciones Exteriores, Ciudadano Emiliano Tejera y el Secretario de Estado de Hacienda y Comercio, Ciudadano Federico Velasquez H., y el Gobierno de los Estados Unidos, representado por Thomas C. Dawson, Ministro Residente y Cónsul General de los Estados Unidos en la República Dominicana, han convenido en lo siguiente:

1º El Presidente de los Estados Unidos nombrará un Receptor General de las Aduanas dominicanas, quien en union de los Receptores Auxiliares y otros empleados de la Receptoría que libremente nombre el Presidente de los Estados Unidos percibirá todos los derechos de aduanas que se recauden en las distintas aduanas de la República Dominicana hasta tanto queden pagados ó retirados todos y cada uno de los bonos emitidos por el Gobierno Dominicano de acuerdo con el plan y dentro de las limitaciones en cuanto á plazos y cantidades mas arriba señalados; y dicho Receptor General aplicará las sumas así recaudadas como sigue: Primero, al pago de los gastos de receptoría; segundo, al pago de los intereses de dichos bonos; tercero, al pago de las cantidades anuales señaladas para la amortizacion de dichos bonos incluyendo el interes de todos los bonos que se retengan como fondo de amortizacion; cuarto, á la compra y cancelacion ó retiro y cancelacion de cualesquiera de dichos bonos, conforme con sus propios términos, segun disponga el Gobierno Dominicano; quinto, el remanente será entregado al Gobierno Dominicano.

The method of distributing the current collections of revenue in order to accomplish the application thereof as hereinbefore provided shall be as follows:

The expenses of the receivership shall be paid by the Receiver as they arise. The allowances to the General Receiver and his assistants for the expenses of collecting the revenues shall not exceed five per cent unless by agreement between the two Governments.

On the first day of each calendar month the sum of $100,000 shall be paid over by the Receiver to the Fiscal Agent of the loan, and the remaining collection of the last preceding month shall be paid over to the Dominican Government, or applied to the sinking fund for the purchase or redemption of bonds, as the Dominican Government shall direct.

Provided, that in case the customs revenues collected by the General Receiver shall in any year exceed the sum of $3,000,000, one half of the surplus above such sum of $3,000,000 shall be applied to the sinking fund for the redemption of bonds.

II. The Dominican Government will provide by law for the payment of all customs duties to the General Receiver and his assistants, and will give to them all needful aid and assistance and full protection to the extent of its powers. The Government of the United States will give to the General Receiver and his assistants such protection as it may find to be requisite for the performance of their duties.

III. Until the Dominican Republic has paid the whole amount of the bonds of the debt its public debt shall not be increased except by previous agreement between the Dominican Government and the United States. A like agreement shall be necessary to modify the import duties, it being an indispensable condition for the modification of such duties that the Dominican Executive demonstrate

La manera de distribuir las recaudaciones ordinarias de las rentas, á fin de darles la aplicacion que anteriormente se dispone, será la siguiente:

Los gastos de la Receptoría serán pagados por el Receptor segun se vayan causando. La cantidad que se señale al Receptor General y á sus ayudantes para gastos de la recaudacion de las rentas no excederá del cinco por ciento de éstas, á menos que se convenga otra cosa entre ambos Gobiernos.

El dia primero de cada mes natural, el Receptor hará entrega de la suma de $100.000 al Agente fiscal del empréstito, y el remanente de la recaudacion del mes próximo precedente será entregado al Gobierno Dominicano, ó destinado al fondo de amortizacion para la compra ó redención de bonos segun disponga el Gobierno Dominicano

Es entendido que en el caso de que las rentas de aduanas recaudadas por el Receptor General excedan en cualquier año de la cantidad de $3.000.000, la mitad del excedente sobre dicha suma de $3.000.000 se destinará al fondo de amortizacion para la redencion de bonos.

2º El Gobierno Dominicano dispondrá por medio de una ley que el pago de todos los derechos de Aduanas se haga al Receptor General y á sus auxiliares, á quienes prestará todo el apoyo y auxilio que sea necesario y la mas amplia proteccion que pueda dentro de sus facultades. El Gobierno de los Estados Unidos dará al Receptor General y á sus auxiliares la proteccion que estimare necesaria para el cumplimiento de los deberes de estos.

3º Hasta que la República Dominicana no haya pagado la totalidad de los bonos del empréstito, su deuda pública no podrá ser aumentada, sino mediante un acuerdo previo entre el Gobierno Dominicano y los Estados Unidos. Igual acuerdo será preciso para modificar los derechos de importacion de la República por ser condicion indispensable para que esos derechos puedan ser modificados que el Lesquels, munis de pouvoirs en bonne et due forme, ont adopté les dispositions suivantes:

Mr. H. J. Read, Chief of the Department of East Africa in the Colonial Office;

His Majesty the King of Italy, Lelio, Count Bonin Longare, His Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near His Majesty the King of the Belgians; Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands,

Jonkheer O. D. van der Staal de Piershil, Her Chamberlain, Her Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near His Majesty the King of the Belgians;

His Majesty the King of Portugal and of the Algarves,

Carlos-Cyrillo Machado, Viscount de Santo-Thyrso, His Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near His Majesty the King of the Belgians; and

Mr. Tomaz-Antonio Garcia Rosado, Lieutenant-Colonel on the General Staff, Member of His Council and His Honorary Artillery Officer;

His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias,

Mr. N. de Giers, His Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near His Majesty the King of the Belgians;

His Majesty the King of Sweden, Gustave M. M. Baron Falkenberg, His Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary near His Majesty the King of the Belgians;

Who, vested with powers in good and due form, have adopted the following provisions:

ARTICLE I.

A partir de la mise en vigueur de la présente Convention, le droit d'entrée sur les spiritueux sera porté, dans toute l'étendue de la zone où n'existerait pas le régime de la prohibition visé à l'article XCI de l'Acte général de Bruxelles, au taux de 100 francs par hectolitre à 50 degrés centésimaux.

Toutefois il est entendu, en ce qui concerne l'Erythrée, que ce droit pourra n'être que de 70 francs l'hectolitre à 50 degrés centésimaux, le surplus étant re-

ARTICLE I.

From the putting into operation of this Convention, the import duty on spirits shall be advanced throughout the zone wherein the prohibition régime contemplated in Article XCI of the General Act of Brussels does not exist, to the rate of 100 francs per hectolitre at 50 centesimal degrees.

It is however agreed in regard to Erythrea that the duty may be not more than 70 francs per hectolitre at 50 centesimal degrees, the excess being in a general and présenté d'une manière générale et constante par l'ensemble des autres droits existant dans cette colonie.

Le droit d'entrée sera augmenté proportionnellement pour chaque degré au-dessus de 50 degrés centésimaux; il pourra être diminué proportionnellement pour chaque degré au-dessous de 50 degrés centésimaux.

Les Puissances conservent le droit de maintenir et d'élever la taxe au delà du minimum fixé par le présent article dans les régions où elles le possèdent actuellement.

ARTICLE II.

Ainsi qu'il résulte de l'article XCIII de l'Acte général de Bruxelles, les boissons distillées qui seraient fabriquées dans les régions visées à l'article XCII dudit Acte général et destinées à être livrées à la consommation, seront grevées d'un droit d'accise.

Ce droit d'accise, dont les Puissances s'engagent à assurer la perception dans la limite du possible, ne sera pas inférieur au minimum du droit d'entrée fixé par l'article I de la présente Convention.

Toutefois, il est entendu, en ce qui concerne l'Angola, que le Gouvernement portugais pourra, en vue d'assurer la transformation graduelle et complète des distilleries en fabriques de sucre, prélever sur le produit de ce droit de 100 francs une somme de 30 francs, qui sera attribuée aux producteurs, à charge pour eux, et sous son contrôle, de réaliser cette transformation.

Si le Gouvernement portugais faisait usage de cette faculté, le nombre des distilleries en activité et la capacité de production de chacune d'elles ne pourraient dépasser le nombre et la capacité constatés à la date du 31 octobre 1906.

ARTICLE III.

Les dispositions de la présente Convention sont établies pour une période de dix ans.

continuous way represented by the aggregate of other duties existing in that colony.

The import duty shall be proportionally increased for each degree above 50 centesimal degrees; it may be proportionally decreased for each degree below 50 centesimal degrees.

The Powers retain the right to maintain and advance the tax beyond the minimum fixed by this article in the regions where they now have that right.

ARTICLE II.

As a consequence of Article XCIII of the General Act of Brussels, distilled beverages made within the regions contemplated in Article XCII of the said General Act and intended for consumption therein, shall be subjected to an excise duty.

This excise duty which the Powers engage to collect as far as practicable shall not be less than the minimum import duty fixed by article I of this Convention.

It is however agreed, in regard to Angola, that the Portuguese Government will be at liberty, with a view to effect the gradual and complete transformation of distilleries into sugar factories, to take out of the proceeds of the said 100 francs duty a sum of 30 francs which would be allowed to the producers on condition that they shall, under the Portuguese Government's supervision carry out the said transformation.

If the Portuguese Government should avail itself of this liberty, the number of distilleries in operation and the producing power of each should not be greater than the number and power ascertained on the 31st of October, 1906.

	Toutefois, chacune des Puissances contractantes aura la faculté de provoquer la revision de ce droit à l'expiration de la huitième année.	Each one of the Contracting Powers will, however, be at liberty to move the revision of the duty at the expiration of the eighth year.

Parcels-Post Convention between the United States of America and Netherlands.

Preamble.

Parcels-post convention with Netherlands.

For the purpose of making better postal arrangements between the United States of America and the Kingdom of the Netherlands, the Postal Administrations of the United States of America and of the Netherlands, represented by the Postmaster-General of the United States of America and the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs of the Netherlands, have agreed as follows, as regards the establishment of a parcels-post system of exchanges between the two countries.

ARTICLE I.

Scope of convention.

The provisions of this Convention relate only to parcels of mail matter to be exchanged by the system herein provided for, and do not affect the arrangements now existing under the Universal Postal Convention, which will continue as heretofore; and all the agreements hereinafter contained apply exclusively to mails exchanged under these articles, directly between the office of New York, and such other offices within the United States as may be hereafter designated by the Postmaster-General of the United States; and the office of Rotterdam, and such other offices within the Netherlands as may be hereafter designated by the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs of the Netherlands.

ARTICLE II.

Articles admitted to the mails.

There shall be admitted to the mails exchanged under this Convention, articles of merchandise and mail matter—except letters, post cards and written matter of all kinds—that are admitted under any conditions to the domestic mails of the country of origin, except that no packet must exceed fifty dollars ($50) or its equivalent in value, 4 pounds 6 ounces (or 2 kilograms) in weight, nor the following dimensions: Greatest length in any direction, three feet six inches (105 centimeters); greatest length and girth combined, six feet (180 centimeters); and must be so wrapped or inclosed as to permit their contents to be easily examined by customs officers and by postmasters duly authorized to do so; and except that the following articles are prohibited:

Articles prohibited.

Publications which violate the copyright laws of the country of destination; poisons, and explosive or inflammable substances; fatty substances; liquids, and those which easily liquefy; confections and pastes; live or dead animals, except dead insects and reptiles when thoroughly dried; fruits and vegetables which easily decompose, and substances which exhale a bad odor; lottery tickets, lottery advertisements, or lottery circulars; all obscene or immoral articles; articles which may in any way damage or destroy the mails, or injure the persons handling them.

ARTICLE III.

Letters not to accompany parcels.

A letter or communication of the nature of personal correspondence must not accompany, be written on, or inclosed with any parcel.

If such be found, the letter will be placed in the mails, if separable, and if the communication be inseparably attached, the whole package will be rejected. If, however, any such should inadvertently be forwarded, the country of destination may collect on the letter or letters, double rates of postage according to the Universal Postal Convention.

Rejection.

No parcel may contain parcels intended for delivery at an address other than that borne by the parcel itself. If such inclosed parcels be detected, they must be sent forward singly, charged with new and distinct parcels-post rates.

Address.

ARTICLE IV.

The packages in question shall be subject in the country of destination to all customs duties and all customs regulations in force in that country for the protection of its customs revenues, and to the following rates of postage, which shall in all cases be required to be FULLY PREPAID, viz:

Collection of duties.

In the United States: for a parcel not exceeding one pound (455 grams) in weight, 12 cents; and for each additional pound (455 grams) or fraction of a pound, 12 cents;

Rates of postage.

In the Netherlands: for a parcel not exceeding 1 kilogram in weight, 80 cents, and for other parcels, 1 guilder 10 cents.

ARTICLE V.

The sender of each package must make a Customs Declaration in duplicate, upon a special form provided for the purpose (see Form 1, A, annexed hereto), giving the address, a general description of the parcel, an accurate statement of the contents and value, date of mailing, and the sender's signature and place of residence, which declaration must accompany the parcel to destination.

Customs declaration.
Post, p. 1932.

Either country may authorize the post-office where the package is mailed to deliver to the sender of the package at the time of mailing, a certificate of mailing on a form like Form 2 annexed hereto.

Certificate of mailing.
Post, p. 1932.

ARTICLE VI.

The packages shall be delivered to addressees at the post-offices of address in the country of destination free of charge for postage; but the customs duties properly chargeable thereon shall be collected on delivery in accordance with the customs regulations of the country of destination; and the country of destination may, at its option, levy and collect from the addressee for interior service and delivery a charge not exceeding 5 cents in the United States and 12½ cents in the Netherlands, on each single parcel of whatever weight.

Delivery.

ARTICLE VII.

The packages shall be considered as a component part of the mails exchanged direct between the United States and the Netherlands to be dispatched by the country of origin to the other at its cost and by such means as it provides, but must be forwarded, at the option of the dispatching office, either in boxes or hampers prepared especially for the purpose or in ordinary mail sacks, to be marked "Parcels-post," and not to contain any other articles of mail matter, and to be securely sealed with wax or otherwise, as may be mutually provided by regulations hereunder.

Transportation.

Each country shall promptly return empty to the dispatching office all bags or sacks; but the boxes or hampers used occasionally by either administration may be used by the other administration for return Parcels-Post dispatches.

Return of bags, etc.

Packing.

Although articles admitted under this Convention will be transmitted as aforesaid between the exchange offices, they should be so carefully packed as to be safely transmitted in the open mails of either country, both in going to the exchange office in the country of origin and to the office of address in the country of destination.

Descriptive list.

Each dispatch of a parcels-post mail must be accompanied by a descriptive list, in duplicate, of all the packages sent, showing distinctly the list number of each parcel, the name of the sender, the name of the addressee with address of destination, and the declared contents and value; and must be inclosed in one of the boxes or sacks of such dispatch. (See Form 3 annexed hereto.)

Post, p. 1933.*ARTICLE VIII.*Receipt of mail.

As soon as the mail shall have reached the office of destination, that office shall check the contents of the mail.

Parcel bill.

In the event of the parcel bill not having been received, a substitute should be at once prepared.

Errors.

Any errors in the entries on the parcel bill which may be discovered, should, after verification by a second officer, be corrected and noted for report to the dispatching office on a form "Verification certificate," which should be sent in a special envelope.

Nonreceipt of parcels.

If a parcel advised on the bill be not received, after the nonreceipt has been verified by a second officer, the entry on the bill should be canceled and the fact reported at once.

Damaged parcels.

Should a parcel be received in a damaged or imperfect condition, full particulars should be reported on the same form.

Correct mails.

If no verification certificate or note of error be received, a parcels-mail shall be considered as duly delivered, having been found on examination correct in all respects.

ARTICLE IX.*Failure to deliver.

If the packages cannot be delivered as addressed, or if they are refused, they should be reciprocally returned without charge, directly to the dispatching office of exchange, at the expiration of thirty days from their receipt at the office of destination, and the country of origin may collect from the sender, for the return of the parcel, a sum equal to the postage when first mailed;

Disposal of prohibited articles.

Provided, however, That parcels prohibited by Article II and those which do not conform to the conditions as to size, weight and value, prescribed by said Article, shall not necessarily be returned to the country of origin, but may be disposed of, without recourse, in accordance with the customs laws and regulations of the country of destination.

Perishable articles.

When the contents of a parcel which cannot be delivered are liable to deterioration or corruption, they may be destroyed at once, if necessary, or if expedient, sold, without previous notice or judicial formality, for the benefit of the right person, the particulars of each sale being noticed by one post-office to the other.

ARTICLE X.*Nonresponsibility for loss, etc.

The Post-Office Department of either of the contracting countries will not be responsible for the loss or damage of any package; but either country is at liberty to indemnify the sender of any package which may be lost or destroyed on its territory.

ARTICLE XI.

Each country shall retain to its own use the whole of the postages, registration and delivery fees, it collects on said packages; consequently, this Convention will give rise to no separate accounts between the two countries. Fees to be retained.

ARTICLE XII.

The Postmaster-General of the United States of America, and the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs of the Netherlands, shall have authority to jointly make such further regulations of order and detail as may be found necessary to carry out the present Convention from time to time; and may, by agreement, prescribe conditions for the admission in packages exchanged under this Convention of any of the articles prohibited by Article II. Further regulations.
Ante, p. 1928.

ARTICLE XIII.

This Convention shall take effect and operations thereunder shall begin on the first day of July 1908, and shall continue in force until terminated by mutual agreement, but may be annulled at the desire of either Department, upon six months' previous notice given to the other. Duration of convention.

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers and found them to be in due and proper form, excepting those presented by the representatives of Their Excellencies the Presidents of the United States of America, Nicaragua and Paraguay, who act "ad referendum," have agreed to celebrate a Convention on literary and artistic copyrights, in the following terms:

Object of convention.

ART. 1ST. The signatory States constitute themselves into a Union for the purpose of recognizing and protecting the rights of literary and artistic property, in conformity with the stipulations of the present Convention.

What comprise literary and artistic property.

ART. 2ND. Under the term "Literary and Artistic works," are comprised books, manuscripts, pamphlets of all kinds, no matter on what subject they may treat of and what may be the number of their pages; dramatic or melodramatic works; choral music and musical compositions, with or without words, designs, drawings, paintings, sculpture, engravings, photographic works; astronomical and geographical globes; plans, sketches and plastic works relating to geography or geology, topography or architecture, or any other science; and finally, every production in the literary and artistic field, which may be published by any method of impression or reproduction.

Scope of copyrights.

ART. 3RD. The copyright to literary or artistic work, consists in the exclusive right to dispose of the same, to publish, sell and translate the same, or to authorize its translation, and to reproduce the same in any manner, either entirely or partially.

Translations.

The authors belonging to one of the signatory countries, or their assigns, shall enjoy in the other signatory countries, and for the time stipulated in art. 5th., the exclusive right to translate their works, or to authorize their translation.

Copyright petition.

ART. 4TH. In order to obtain the recognition of the copyright of a work, it is indispensable that the author or his assigns, or legitimate representative, shall address a petition to the official Department, which each government may designate, claiming the recognition of such right, which petition must be accompanied by two copies of his work, said copies to remain in the proper Department.

Distribution of copies to signatory powers.

If the author, or his assigns, should desire that his copyright be recognized in any other of the signatory countries, he shall attach to his petition a number of copies of his work, equal to that of the countries he may therein designate. The said Department shall dis-

- tribute the copies mentioned among those countries, accompanied by a copy of the respective certificate, in order that the copyright of the author may be recognized by them.
- Claims against the State prohibited. Any omissions in which the said Department may incur in this respect, shall not give the author, or his assigns, any rights to present claims against the State.
- Reciprocal rights. ART. 5TH. The authors who belong to one of the signatory countries, or their assigns, shall enjoy in the other countries the rights which their respective laws at present grant, or in the future may grant, to their own citizens, but such right shall not exceed the term of protection granted in the country of its origin.
- Limit of time. For the works composed of several volumes, which are not published at the same time, as well as for bulletins or instalments of publications of literary or scientific societies, or of private parties, the term of property shall commence to be counted from the date of the publication of each volume, bulletin or instalment.
- Works in several volumes, etc. ART. 6TH. The country in which a work is first published, shall be considered as the country of its origin, or, if such publication takes place simultaneously in several of the signatory countries, the one whose laws establish the shortest period of protection shall be considered as the country of its origin.
- Country of origin. ART. 7TH. Lawful translations shall be protected in the same manner as original works. The translators of works, in regard to which there exists no guaranteed right of property, or the right of which may have become extinguished, may secure the right of property for their translations, as established in article 3rd., but they shall not prevent the publication of their translations of the same work.
- Protection to lawful translations. ART. 8TH. Newspaper articles may be reproduced, but the publication from which they are taken must be mentioned, and the name of the author given, if it should appear in the same.
- Reproducing newspaper articles. ART. 9TH. Copyright shall be recognized in favor of the persons, whose names, or acknowledged pseudonyms, are stated in the respective literary or artistic work, or in the petition to which Article 4th. of this Convention refers, excepting case of proof to the contrary.
- Persons protected. ART. 10TH. Addresses delivered or read in deliberative assemblies, before the Courts of Justice and in public meetings, may be published in the newspaper press without any special authorization.
- Publication of public addresses not forbidden. ART. 11TH. The reproduction in publications devoted to public instruction or chrestomathy, of fragments of literary or artistic works, confers no right of property, and may therefore be freely made in all the signatory countries.
- Lawful reproductions. ART. 12TH. All unauthorized indirect use of a literary or artistic work, which does not present the character of an original work, shall be considered as an unlawful reproduction.
- Unlawful reproductions. It shall be considered in the same manner unlawful to reproduce, in any form, an entire work, or the greater part of the same, accompanied by notes or commentaries, under the pretext of literary criticism, or of enlargement or complement of an original work.
- Fraudulent works may be sequestered. ART. 13TH. All fraudulent works shall be liable to sequestration in the signatory countries in which the original work may have the right of legal protection, without prejudice to the indemnities or punishments, to which the falsifiers may be liable according to the laws of the country, in which the fraud has been committed.
- Government control. ART. 14TH. Each one of the Governments of the signatory countries shall remain at liberty to permit, exercise vigilance over, or prohibit, the circulation, representation and exposition of any work or production, in respect to which the competent authorities shall have power to exercise such right.
- Duration of convention. ART. 15TH. The present Convention shall take effect between the signatory States that ratify it, three months from the day they communicate their ratification to the Mexican Government, and shall remain in force among all of them until one year from the date it is denounced by any of said States. The notification of such denouncement shall be addressed to the Mexican Government and shall only have effect in so far as regards the country which has given it.

ART. 16TH. The Governments of the signatory States, when approving the present Convention, shall declare whether they accept the adherence to the same by the nations who have had no representation in the Second International American Conference.

In testimony whereof the Plenipotentiaries and Delegates sign the present Convention and set thereto the Seal of the Second International American Conference.

Made in the City of Mexico, on the twenty-seventh day of January nineteen hundred and two, in three copies written in Spanish, English and French respectively, which shall be deposited at the Department of Foreign Relations of the Government of the Mexican United States, so that certified copies thereof may be made, in order to send them through the diplomatic channel to the signatory States.

ART. 1. Les Etats signataires se constituent en Union pour reconnaître et protéger les droits de propriété littéraire et artistique, conformément aux stipulations de la présente Convention.

ART. 2. Dans l'expression "ouvrages littéraires et artistiques" sont compris les livres, écrits, brochures de toutes sortes, quelle que soit la matière dont ils traitent et quel qu'en soit le nombre de pages; les ouvrages dramatiques ou dramatico-musicaux; les choréographies, les compositions musicales, avec ou sans paroles, les dessins, les peintures, les sculptures, les gravures, les ouvrages photographiques, les sphères astronomiques ou géographiques; les plans, croquis ou travaux plastiques relatifs à la géographie ou à la géologie, à la topographie ou à l'architecture ou à toute autre science; est compris, enfin, dans cette expression, toute production du domaine littéraire et artistique pouvant être publiée par un moyen quelconque d'impression ou de reproduction.

ART. 3. Le droit de propriété d'une œuvre littéraire ou artistique comprend, pour son auteur ou ses ayants-droit, la faculté exclusive d'en disposer, de la publier, de l'aliéner, de la traduire ou d'en autoriser la traduction, et de la reproduire sous n'importe quelle forme, soit en totalité soit en partie.

Les auteurs appartenant à un des pays signataires ou leurs ayants-droit jouissent, dans les autres pays signataires, et pour la durée déterminée dans l'article 5, du droit exclusif de faire ou d'autoriser la traduction de leurs ouvrages.

ART. 4. Pour obtenir la reconnaissance du droit de propriété d'une œuvre, il est indispensable que l'auteur, ou ses ayants-droit, ou son représentant légal, adressent au Département officiel que chaque Gouvernement signataire désignera, une requête demandant la reconnaissance de ce droit et accompagnée de deux exemplaires de l'ouvrage qui resteront au Département précité.

Si l'auteur ou ses ayants-droit désiraient que le droit de propriété leur soit reconnu dans d'autres pays signataires, ils joindront, en outre, à leur requête, autant d'exemplaires de l'ouvrage qu'ils désigneraient de pays.

Le dit Département officiel distribuera entre lesdits pays les exemplaires en question accompagnés d'une copie du certificat, afin que le droit de propriété soit reconnu à l'auteur dans ces pays.

Les omissions que le Département pourrait commettre à ce sujet ne donneront pas à l'auteur ou à ses ayants-droit, le droit d'entamer des réclamations contre l'Etat.

ART. 5. Les auteurs qui appartiennent à un des pays signataires, ou leurs ayants-droit, jouiront dans les autres pays des droits que les lois respectives accordent actuellement, ou accorderaient dans la suite, aux nationaux, sans que la jouissance de ces droits puisse excéder le terme de protection accordé dans le pays d'origine.

Pour les ouvrages composés de plusieurs volumes, qui ne seraient pas publiés en même temps, de même que pour les bulletins ou livraisons de sociétés littéraires ou scientifiques, ou de particuliers, le délai de la propriété commencera à courir, relativement à chaque volume, bulletin ou livraison, à partir de la date respective de leur publication.

Sera considéré comme pays d'origine d'un ouvrage celui de sa première publication, ou, si celle-ci a eu lieu simultanément dans plusieurs des pays signataires, celui dont la législation fixe le plus court délai de protection.

ART. 7. Les traductions licites sont protégées comme les œuvres originales. Les traducteurs d'ouvrages au sujet desquels le droit de propriété garantie n'existerait pas ou serait éteint, pourront obtenir, relativement à leurs traductions, les droits de propriété prévus à l'article 3; mais ils ne pourront empêcher la publication d'autres traductions du même ouvrage.

ART. 8. Les articles de journaux pourront être reproduits dans les délais que fixeraient les lois locales, en citant la publication d'où ils seraient pris et en désignant le nom de l'auteur, s'il y figurait.

ART. 9. Le droit de propriété sera reconnu, sauf preuve du contraire, en faveur des personnes dont les noms ou pseudonymes reconnus sont indiqués dans l'œuvre littéraire ou artistique, ou dans la requête à laquelle se réfère l'art. 4 de cette Convention.

ART. 10. Peuvent être publiés dans la presse périodique, sans qu'il soit besoin d'aucune autorisation, les discours prononcés ou lus dans les assemblées délibérantes, devant les tribunaux de justice ou dans les réunions publiques.

ART. 11. La reproduction de fragments d'ouvrages littéraires ou artistiques, dans des publications destinées à l'enseignement ou à des chrestomathies, ne confère aucun droit de propriété et peut, par conséquent, être librement faite dans tous les pays signataires.

ART. 12. Seront considérées comme reproductions illicites les appropriations indirectes, non autorisées, d'une œuvre littéraire ou artistique, et qui ne présenteraient pas le caractère d'une œuvre originale.

Sera également considérée comme illicite la reproduction, sous quelque forme que ce soit, d'une œuvre entière ou de la majeure partie de celle-ci, accompagnée de notes ou de commentaires, sous prétexte de critique littéraire, d'amplification ou de complément de l'œuvre originale.

ART. 13. Toute œuvre falsifiée pourra être saisie dans les pays signataires où l'œuvre originale aura droit à la protection légale, sans préjudice des indemnités ou des peines dont seraient passibles les falsificateurs, selon les lois du pays où la fraude aurait été commise.

ART. 14. Chacun des Gouvernements des pays signataires conservera la liberté de permettre, de surveiller, ou d'interdire la circulation, la représentation ou l'exposition d'une œuvre ou production quelconque, à l'égard desquelles l'autorité compétente aurait à exercer ce droit.

ART. 15. La présente Convention sera mise à exécution, en ce qui concerne les Etats signataires qui la ratifieraient, trois mois après avoir communiqué leur ratification au Gouvernement Mexicain; et elle restera en vigueur entre eux tous, un an encore après la date où elle aurait été dénoncée par l'un quelconque de ces Etats. Cette dénonciation sera adressée au Gouvernement Mexicain et n'aura d'effet que relativement au pays qui l'aurait faite.

ART. 16. Les Gouvernements des Etats signataires déclareront, au moment de la ratification de la présente Convention, s'ils acceptent l'adhésion à la dite Convention, par les pays qui n'ont pas été représentés dans la Seconde Conférence Internationale Américaine.

En foi de quoi, les Plénipotentiaires et Délégués signent la présente Convention et y apposent le sceau de la Seconde Conférence Internationale Américaine. French text—

Quienes después de haberse comunicado sus plenos poderes y encontrándolos en buena y debida forma, con excepción de los exhibidos por los Representantes de SS. EE. el Presidente de los Estados Unidos de América, el de Nicaragua y el del Paraguay, los cuales obran ad referendum, han convenido en celebrar una Convención para la protección de las obras literarias y artísticas, en los términos siguientes: Spanish text—Continued.

ART. 1º. Los Estados signatarios se constituyen en Unión para reconocer y proteger los derechos de propiedad literaria y artística, de conformidad con las estipulaciones de la presente Convención.

ART. 2º. En la expresión "obras literarias y artísticas," se comprenden los libros, escritos, folletos de todas clases, cualquiera que sea la materia de que traten y cualquiera que sea el número de sus páginas; las obras dramáticas ó dramático-musicales; las coreografías, las composiciones musicales con ó sin palabras; los dibujos, las pinturas, las esculturas, los grabados; las obras fotográficas, las esferas astronómicas ó geográficas; los planos, croquis ó trabajos plásticos relativos á geografía ó geología, á topografía ó arquitectura, ó á cualquiera ciencia; y, en fin, queda comprendida toda producción del dominio literario y artístico que pueda publicarse por cualquier medio de impresión ó reproducción.

ART. 3º. El derecho de propiedad de una obra literaria ó artística comprende, para su autor ó causa-habientes, la facultad exclusiva de disponer de ella, de publicarla, de enajenarla, de traducirla ó de autorizar su traducción, y de reproducirla en cualquiera forma, ya total, ya parcialmente.

Los autores pertenecientes á uno de los países signatarios ó sus causa-habientes gozan en los otros países signatarios, y por el tiempo determinado en el art. 5º, del derecho exclusivo de hacer ó autorizar la traducción de sus obras.

ART. 4º. Para obtener el reconocimiento del derecho de propiedad de una obra, es condición indispensable que el autor ó sus causa-habientes, ó su representante legítimo, dirijan al departamento oficial que cada Gobierno firmante designe, una solicitud pidiendo el reconocimiento de aquel derecho, acompañada de dos ejemplares de su obra, que quedarán en el departamento referido.

Si el autor ó sus causa-habientes desearan que el derecho de propiedad les sea reconocido en otros de los países signatarios, acompañarán además á su solicitud tantos ejemplares de su obra, cuantos sean los países que designen.

El mencionado departamento oficial distribuirá entre dichos países los ejemplares referidos acompañados de una copia del certificado, á efecto de que sea en aquéllos reconocido el derecho de propiedad al autor.

Las omisiones en que el departamento pudiera incurrir á este respecto, no darán derecho al autor ó sus causa-habientes, para entablar reclamaciones contra el Estado.

ART. 5º. Los autores que pertenezcan á uno de los países signatarios, ó sus causa-habientes, gozarán en los otros países los derechos que las leyes respectivas acuerden actualmente ó acordaren en lo sucesivo á los nacionales, sin que el goce de esos derechos pueda exceder del término de protección acordado en el país de origen.

Para las obras compuestas de varios volúmenes que no se publiquen juntamente, del mismo modo que para los boletines ó entregas de sociedades literarias ó científicas, ó de particulares, el plazo de propiedad comenzará á contarse, respecto de cada volumen, boletín ó entrega, desde la respectiva fecha de su publicación.

ART. 6º. Se considerará como país de origen de una obra, el de su primera publicación, ó si ésta ha tenido lugar simultáneamente en varios de los países signatarios, aquel cuya legislación fije el término de protección más corto.

ART. 7º. Las traducciones lícitas son protegidas como las obras originales. Los traductores de obras, acerca de los cuales no exista ó se hubiere extinguido el derecho de propiedad garantizado, podrán obtener respecto de sus traducciones, los derechos de propiedad declarados en el art. 3º; mas no podrán impedir la publicación de otras traducciones de la misma obra.

ART. 8º. Los artículos de periódicos podrán reproducirse salvos los plazos que designen las leyes locales, citándose la publicación de donde se tomen y expresándose el nombre del autor, si apareciere en ella.

ART. 9º. El derecho de propiedad se reconocerá, salva prueba en contrario, á favor de las personas cuyos nombres ó pseudónimos reconocidos estén indicados en la obra literaria ó artística ó en la solicitud á que se refiere el art. 4º de esta Convención.

ART. 10. Pueden publicarse en la prensa periódica, sin necesidad de autorización alguna, los discursos pronunciados ó leídos en asambleas deliberantes, ante los tribunales de justicia ó en las reuniones públicas.

ART. 11. La reproducción de fragmentos de obras literarias ó artísticas en publicaciones destinadas á la enseñanza ó para crestomatías, no confiere ningún derecho de propiedad y puede, por consiguiente, ser hecha libremente en todos los países signatarios.

ART. 12. Se considerarán reproducciones ilícitas las apropiaciones indirectas no autorizadas, de una obra literaria ó artística y que no presenten el carácter de obra original.

Será también considerada ilícita la reproducción, en cualquiera forma, de una obra íntegra ó de la mayor parte de ella, acompañada de notas ó comentarios, á pretexto de crítica literaria, de ampliación ó complemento de la obra original.

ART. 13. Toda obra falsificada podrá ser secuestrada en los países signatarios en que la obra tenga derecho á la protección legal, sin perjuicio de originar las indemnizaciones ó de las penas en que incurran los falsificadores según las leyes del país en que el fraude se haya cometido.

ART. 14. Cada uno de los Gobiernos de los países signatarios conservará la libertad de permitir, vigilar ó prohibir la circulación, representación y exposición de cualquiera obra ó producción, respecto de las cuales tuviere que ejercer ese derecho la autoridad competente.

ART. 15. La presente Convención comenzará á regir, entre los Estados signatarios que la ratifiquen, tres meses después de que comuniquen su ratificación al Gobierno Mexicano, y permanecerá en vigor entre todos ellos, hasta un año después de la fecha en que se denuncie por alguno. Esta denuncia será dirigida al Gobierno Mexicano, y no tendrá efecto sino respecto del país que la haya hecho.

ART. 16. Los Gobiernos de los Estados signatarios declararán, al aprobar la presente Convención, si aceptan la adhesión de las naciones que no han tenido representación en la Segunda Conferencia Internacional Americana.

En fe de lo cual los Plenipotenciarios y Delegados firman la presente Convención y ponen en ella el sello de la Segunda Conferencia Internacional Americana.

Hecho en la Ciudad de México, el día veintisiete de Enero de mil novecientos dos, en tres ejemplares, en castellano, inglés y francés respectivamente, los cuales se depositarán en la Secretaría de Relaciones Exteriores del Gobierno de los Estados Unidos Mexicanos, á fin de que de ellos se saquen copias certificadas para enviarlas por la vía diplomática á cada uno de los Estados signatarios.

ARTICOLO III

Crimes committed previous to extradition.

A person surrendered under this Convention shall not be tried or punished in the country to which his extradition has been granted, nor given up to a third power for a crime or offence not provided for by the present Convention and committed previously to his extradition, until he shall have been allowed one month to leave the country after having been discharged; and, if he shall have been tried and condemned to punishment, he shall be allowed one month after having suffered his penalty or having been pardoned.

Trials only for offenses for which extradited.

He shall moreover not be tried or punished for any crime or offence provided for by this Convention committed previous to his extradition, other than that which gave rise to the extradition, without the consent of the government which surrendered him, which may, if it think proper, require the production of one of the documents mentioned in Article VII, of this convention.

Post, p. 1975.

Extradition to third country.

The consent of that government shall likewise be required for the extradition of the accused to a third country; nevertheless, such consent shall not be necessary when the accused shall have asked of his own accord to be tried or to undergo his punishment, or when he shall not have left within the space of one month above specified the territory of the country to which he has been surrendered.

ARTICLE IV.

ARTICOLO IV

No surrender for political offenses.

The provisions of this convention shall not be applicable to persons guilty of any political crime or offence or of one connected with such a crime or offence. A person who has been surrendered on account of one of the common crimes or offences mentioned in Article II, shall consequently in no case be prosecuted and punished in the state to which his extradition has been granted on account of a political crime or offence committed by him previ-

Ante, p. 1972.

Un individuo estradato per questa Convenzione non potrà essere processato o punito nel paese al quale l'extradizione è stata concessa, nè estradato a un terzo potere per un crimine o un delitto non previsto nella presente Convenzione e commesso anteriormente alla sua estradizione, amenochè egli abbia avuto un mese di tempo per abbandonare il paese dopo essere stato assolto; e se egli è stato processato e condannato ad una pena, gli deve essere concesso un mese di tempo per lasciare il paese, dopo avere espiata la pena o ottenuto il perdono.

Non potrà tuttavia essere processato o punito per qualsiasi crimine o delitto previsto dalla presente Convenzione, commesso prima della sua estradizione, ma diverso da quello che diede luogo alla estradizione, senza il consenso del governo che lo estradiò, e che può, se lo creda conveniente, esigere la produzione d'uno dei documenti menzionati nell'Art. VII, di questa Convenzione.

Il consenso dello stesso governo sarà similmente richiesto per la estradizione dell'accusato a un terzo paese; nondimeno questo consenso non sarà necessario quando l'accusato abbia spontaneamente domandato di essere processato o di scontare la pena, o quando non abbia nel termine d'un mese sopra specificato abbandonato il paese al quale è stato estradato.

Le disposizioni di questa Convenzione non sono applicabili alle persone colpevoli d'un crimine o delitto politico, o d'un atto connesso ad un tal crimine o delitto. La persona che è stata estradata in ragione di uno dei crimini o delitti comuni menzionati nell'Art. II, non può per conseguenza in alcun caso essere processata o punita nello stato a cui la estradizione è stata concessa, in ragione d'un crimine o delitto politico commesso da lei prima della sua estra-

ARTICLE VII

Requisitions for the surrender of fugitives from justice shall be made by the respective diplomatic agents of the contracting parties, or, in the event of the absence of these, from the country or its seat of government, they may be made by superior consular officers.

If the person, whose extradition may be asked for, shall have been convicted of a crime or offence, a copy of the sentence of the judicial authority, by whom he may have been convicted, authenticated under its seal, and attestation of the official character of the judge by the proper executive authority, and of the latter by the minister or consul of the United States or of San Marino respectively, shall accompany the requisition. ## ARTICOLO VI

Se la persona, la cui estradizione può essere reclamata secondo le stipulazioni del presente trattato, sia stata arrestata per avere commesso dei delitti nel paese dove ha cercato un asilo, o vi sia stata per essi condannata, la sua estradizione deve essere differita finchè essa sia stata assolta, od abbia scontato il termine dell'imprigionamento al quale sia stata condannata.

Se la persona la cui estradizione può essere richiesta, sia stata condannata per un crimine o delitto, una copia della sentenza della Autorità giudiziaria, da cui sia stata condannata, autenticata col suo sigillo, accompagnerà la richiesta di estradizione: la firma del giudice sarà legalizzata dal competente agente del potere esecutivo, la cui firma sarà a sua volta attestata dal Ministro o Console degli Stati Uniti o di San Marino. Quando invece il refrattario sia semplicemente imputato di un delitto, la richiesta di estradizione deve essere accompagnata da una the right to correspond directly with the similar service established in each of the other Contracting States.

ART. 2.

ART. 2.—Chacun des gouvernements s'engage à faire exercer une surveillance en vue de rechercher, particulièrement dans les gares, les ports d'embarquement et en cours de voyage, les conducteurs de femmes et filles destinées à la débauche. Des instructions seront adressées dans ce but aux fonctionnaires ou à toutes autres personnes ayant qualité à cet effet, pour procurer, dans les limites légales, tous renseignements de nature à mettre sur la trace d'un trafic criminel.

Each of the Governments agree to exercise a supervision for the purpose to find out, particularly in the stations, harbours of embarkation and on the journey, the conductors of women or girls intended for debauchery. Instructions shall be sent for that purpose to the officials or to any other qualified persons, in order to procure, within the limits of the laws, all information of a nature to discover a criminal traffic.

L'arrivée de personnes paraissant évidemment être les auteurs, les complices ou les victimes d'un tel trafic sera signalée, le cas échéant, soit aux autorités du lieu de destination, soit aux agents diplomatiques ou consulaires intéressés, soit à toutes autres autorités compétentes.

The arrival of persons appearing evidently to be the authors, the accomplices or the victims of such a traffic will be notified, in each case, either to the authorities of the place of destination or to the interested diplomatic or consular agents, or to any other competent authorities.

ART. 3.

ART. 3.—Les gouvernements s'engagent à faire recevoir, le cas échéant et dans les limites légales, les déclarations des femmes ou filles de nationalité étrangère qui se livrent à la prostitution, en vue d'établir leur identité et leur état civil, et de rechercher qui les a déterminées à quitter leur pays. Les renseignements recueillis seront communiqués aux autorités du pays d'origine des dites femmes ou filles, en vue de leur rapatriement éventuel.

The Governments agree to receive, in each case, within the limits of the laws, the declarations of women and girls of foreign nationality who surrender themselves to prostitution, with a view to establish their identity and their civil status and to ascertain who has induced them to leave their country. The information received will be communicated to the authorities of the country of origin of the said women or girls, with a view to their eventual return.

Les gouvernements s'engagent, dans les limites légales et autant que faire se peut, à confier, à titre provisoire et en vue d'un rapatriement éventuel, les victimes d'un trafic criminel, lorsqu'elles sont dépourvues de ressources, à des institutions d'assistance publique ou privée ou à des particuliers offrant les garanties nécessaires.

The Governments agree, within the limits of the laws and as far as possible, to confide temporarily and with a view to their eventual return, the victims of criminal traffic, when they are without any resources, to some institutions of public or private charity or to private individuals furnishing the necessary guaranties.

Les gouvernements s'engagent aussi, dans les limites légales et autant que possible, à renvoyer dans leur pays d'origine celles de ces femmes ou filles qui demandent leur rapatriement ou qui seraient réclamées par les personnes ayant autorité sur elles. Le rapatriement ne sera effectué qu'après entente sur l'identité et la nationalité, ainsi que sur le lieu et la date de l'arrivée aux frontières.—Chacun des pays contractants facilitera le transit sur son territoire.

those of those women or girls who ask their return or who may be claimed by persons having authority over them. Return will be made only after reaching an understanding as to their identity and nationality, as well to the place and date of their arrival at the frontiers. Each of the Contracting Parties will facilitate the transit on his territory.

The correspondence relative to the return will be made, as far as possible, through the direct channel.

ART. 4.

ART. 4.—Au cas où la femme ou fille à rapatrier ne pourrait rembourser elle-même les frais de son transfert et où elle n'aurait ni mari, ni parents, ni tuteur qui payeraient pour elle, les frais occasionnés par le rapatriement seront à la charge du pays sur le territoire duquel elle réside, jusqu'à la prochaine frontière ou port d'embarquement dans la direction du pays d'origine, et à la charge du pays d'origine pour le surplus.

In case the woman or girl to be sent back can not pay herself the expenses of her transportation and she has neither husband, nor relations, nor guardian to pay for her the expenses occasioned by her return, they shall be borne by the country on the territory of which she resides as far as the nearest frontier or port of embarkation in the direction of the country of origin, and by the country of origin for the remainder.

ARTICLE I.

The provisions of this Convention relate only to parcels of mail matter to be exchanged by the system herein provided for, and do not affect the arrangements now existing under the Universal Postal Convention, which will continue as heretofore; and all the agreements hereinafter contained apply exclusively to mails exchanged under this Convention.

ARTICLE II.

1. There shall be admitted to the mails exchanged under this Convention, articles of merchandise and mail matter—except letters, post cards, and written matter of all kinds that are admitted under any conditions to the domestic mails of the country of origin, except that no packet may exceed eleven pounds (or five kilograms) in weight, nor the following dimensions: Greatest length in any direction, three feet six inches; greatest length and girth combined, six feet; except

Nell'intento di migliorare i servizi postali tra l'Italia e gli Stati Uniti di America, i sottoscritti, Barone Edmondo Mayor des Planches, Ambasciatore di S. M. il Re d'Italia, e G. v. L. Meyer, Postmaster General degli Stati Uniti di America, in virtù dei poteri loro conferiti, hanno convenuto negli articoli seguenti per stabilire un sistema di scambio di pacchi (colli) postali fra l'Italia e gli Stati Uniti.

ARTICOLO I.

Le disposizioni della presente Convenzione si applicano soltanto ai pacchi postali da scambiarsi secondo le modalità in essa fissate. Non alterano gli accordi attualmente esistenti per effetto della Convenzione postale Universale, che restano in vigore come in addietro. Tutte le disposizioni che seguono si applicano esclusivamente agli invii scambiati in esecuzione degli articoli della presente Convenzione.

ARTICOLO II.

1. Saranno ammessi allo scambio, a termini della presente Convenzione, le merci e tutti gli altri oggetti postali ad eccezione delle lettere, cartoline postali, e scritti di ogni natura, allorchè sono ammessi al trasporto in traffico interno dalla Posta del Paese di origine, purchè tuttavia ciascun pacco non ecceda il peso di cinque chilogrammi (undici libbre) nè le seguenti dimensioni: lunghezza massima, in qualsiasi direzione, centocinque centimetri (tre piedi e sei pollici); lunghezza massima

4. I pacchi saranno sollecitamente consegnati ai destinatari negli Uffici postali indicati sugli indirizzi, con esenzione di tassa per affrancazione; però il Paese di destinazione potrà, a sua scelta, esigere e riscuotere dal destinatario, per il proprio servizio interno e per la consegna, una tassa, il cui ammontare sarà fissato secondo i propri regolamenti, ma che non sarà in nessun caso superiore a venticinque centesimi in Italia ed a cinque cents negli Stati Uniti, per ciascun pacco postale, qualunque ne sia il peso.

The sender of each parcel shall make a Customs declaration, pasted upon or attached to the package, upon a special form provided for the purpose (see Form 2, annexed hereto) giving a general description of the parcel, an accurate statement of its contents, and value, date of mailing and the sender's signature and place of residence, and place of address.
- Post*, p. 1993. 2. 2. Il pacco postale in parola sarà soggetto, nel Paese di destinazione, a tutti i diritti e regolamenti doganali ivi vigenti per la protezione degli introiti doganali, ed i diritti doganali debitamente esigibili su di esso saranno riscossi al momento della consegna, in conformità ai regolamenti doganali del Paese di destinazione.

- Ciascun Paese riterrà, a suo proprio uso, il totale delle tasse di affrancazione e di consegna riscosse sui detti pacchi postali.
- In conseguenza, la presente Convenzione non darà luogo a conteggi speciali fra i due Paesi.

ARTICLE VIII.

ARTICOLO VIII.

1. The parcel shall be considered as a component part of the mails exchanged direct between the United States and Italy, to be dispatched to destination by the country of origin at its cost and by such means as it provides; but must be forwarded, at the option of the dispatching office, either in boxes prepared expressly for the purpose, or in ordinary mail sacks, marked "Parcel-Post" "Colis-Postaux" and securely sealed with wax, or otherwise, as may be mutually provided by regulations hereunder.

Transportation.

2. Each country shall promptly return empty to dispatching office by next mail, all such bags and boxes, unless some other arrangement shall be mutually agreed to.

Return of bags, etc.

3. Although articles admitted under this Convention will be transmitted as aforesaid between the exchange offices, they should be so carefully packed as to be safely transmitted in the open mails of either country, both in going to the exchange office in the country of origin and to the office of address in the country of destination.

Packing.

4. Each dispatch of a Parcel-Post mail must be accompanied by a descriptive list, in duplicate, of all the parcels sent, showing distinctly the list number of each parcel, the name of the sender, the name of the addressee and his address, and the declared contents and value; and must be enclosed in one of the boxes or sacks of such dispatch (see form 3 annexed hereto).

Descriptive list.

1. Il pacco postale dovrà considerarsi come parte componente degli invii postali scambiati direttamente fra l'Italia e gli Stati Uniti, da essere spedito a destinazione dal Paese di provenienza a sue spese e con quei mezzi di cui dispone; ma deve essere spedito, a scelta dell'Ufficio mittente, sia in cassette appositamente preparate a tale scopo, sia in sacchi ordinari, contrassegnati Pacchi Postali (Parcel Post), e sigillati in modo sicuro con ceralacca od altrimenti, come può essere di comune accordo disposto con futuri regolamenti.

2. Ciascun Paese dovrà prontamente rinviare vuoti, col più prossimo corriere, all'Ufficio mittente, tutti cotali sacchi o cassette, a meno che qualche altro sistema non sia di comune accordo convenuto.

3. Quantunque gli oggetti ammessi a termini della presente Convenzione siano trasmessi nel modo suddetto fra gli Uffici di scambio, essi devono essere impaccati in modo da guarentire il loro contenuto contro i rischi di perdita, avarie o sottrazioni durante il trasporto dall'Ufficio mittente all'Ufficio di scambio del Paese di origine e dall'Ufficio di scambio all'ufficio di destinazione del Paese di arrivo.

4. Ciascun invio di pacchi deve essere accompagnato da un elenco descrittivo, in doppio esemplare, di tutti i pacchi componenti l'invio stesso. Questo elenco indicherà distintamente il numero d'ordine di ciascun pacco, il nome del mittente, il nome del destinatario ed il suo indirizzo, il contenuto dichiarato ed il valore di esso, e deve essere chiuso in una delle cassette od in uno dei sacchi che compongono quello invio (vedasi modulo III, qui allegato).

Contracting parties.

The United States of America and His Majesty Edward the Seventh, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, and Emperor of India, equally recognizing the desirability of uniform and effective measures for the protection, preservation, and propagation of the food fishes in the waters contiguous to the United States and the Dominion of Canada, have resolved to conclude a Convention for these purposes, and have named as their Plenipotentiaries:

Plenipotentiaries.

The President of the United States of America, Elihu Root, Secretary of State of the United States; and

Who, having exchanged their full powers, found in due form, have agreed to and signed the following articles:

ARTICLE I.

International Fisheries Commission.
Appointment of commissioners.
Post, p. 2001.

The times, seasons, and methods of fishing in the waters contiguous to the United States and Canada as specified in Article IV of this Convention, and the nets, engines, gear, apparatus, and appliances which may be used therein, shall be fixed and determined by uniform and common international regulations, restrictions, and provisions; and to that end the High Contracting Parties agree to appoint, within three months after this Convention is proclaimed, a Commission to be known as the International Fisheries Commission, consisting of one person named by each Government.

ARTICLE II.

International regulations to be prepared.

It shall be the duty of this International Fisheries Commission, within six months after being named, to prepare a system of uniform and common International Regulations for the protection and preservation of the food fishes in each of the waters prescribed in Article IV of this Convention, which Regulations shall embrace close seasons, limitations as to the character, size, and manner of use of nets, engines, gear, apparatus, and other appliances; a uniform system of registry by each Government in waters where required for the more convenient regulation of commercial fishing by its own citizens or subjects within its own territorial waters or any part of such waters; an arrangement for concurrent measures for the propagation of fish; and such other provisions and measures as the Commission shall deem necessary.

ARTICLE III.

The two Governments engage to put into operation and to enforce by legislation and executive action, with as little delay as possible, the Regulations, restrictions, and provisions with appropriate penalties for all breaches thereof; and the date when they shall be put into operation shall be fixed by the concurrent proclamations of the President of the United States and the Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada in Council.

And it is further agreed that jurisdiction shall be exercised by either Government, as well over citizens or subjects of either party apprehended for violation of the Regulations in any of its own waters to which said Regulations apply, as over its own citizens or subjects found within its own jurisdiction who shall have violated said Regulations within the waters of the other party.

It is agreed on the part of Great Britain that the Canadian Government will protect by adequate regulations the food fishes frequenting the Fraser River.

The two Governments engage to have prepared as soon as practicable charts of the waters described in this Article, with the International Boundary Line indicated thereon; and to establish such additional boundary monuments, buoys, and marks as may be recommended by the Commission.

ARTICLE V.

The International Fisheries Commission shall continue in existence so long as this Convention shall be in force, and each Government shall have the power to fill, and shall fill from time to time, any vacancy which may occur in its representation on the Commission. Each Government shall pay its own Commissioner, and any joint expenses shall be paid by the two Governments in equal moieties.

ARTICLE VI.

Duration.

The Regulations, restrictions, and provisions provided for in this Convention shall remain in force for a period of four years from the date of their executive promulgation, and thereafter until one year from the date when either the Government of the United States or of Great Britain shall give notice to the other of its desire for their revision; and immediately upon such notice being given the Commission shall proceed to make a revision thereof, which Revised Regulations, if adopted and promulgated by the President of the United States and the Governor-General of Canada in Council, shall remain in force for another period of four years and thereafter until one year from the date when a further notice of revision is given as above provided in this Article. BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas a Convention between the United States of America and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, providing for the more complete definition and demarcation of the international boundary between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, was concluded and signed by their respective Plenipotentiaries at Washington, on the eleventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and eight, the original of which Convention is word for word as follows:

Canadian International Boundary. Preamble.

The United States of America and His Majesty Edward the Seventh, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King, and Emperor of India, being desirous of providing for the more complete definition and demarcation of the international boundary between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, have for that purpose resolved to conclude a treaty, and to that end have appointed as their Plenipotentiaries:

Contracting parties.

The President of the United States of America, Elihu Root, Secretary of State of the United States; and Plenipotentiaries.

His Britannic Majesty, Right Honorable James Bryce, O. M., his Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary at Washington;

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, which were found to be in due and proper form, have agreed to and concluded the following articles:

ARTICLE I.

The boundary through Passamaquoddy Bay.

The High Contracting Parties agree that each shall appoint, without delay, an expert geographer or surveyor to serve as Commissioners for the purpose of more accurately defining and marking the international boundary line between the United States and the Dominion of Canada in the waters of Passamaquoddy Bay from the mouth of the St. Croix River to the Bay of Fundy, and that in defining and marking said boundary line the Commissioners shall adopt and follow, as closely as may be, the line surveyed and laid down by the Commissioners appointed under Article II of the Treaty of July 22, 1892, between the United States and Great Britain, so far as said Commissioners agreed upon the location of said line, namely:

Boundary line between United States and Canada in Passamaquoddy Bay. Appointment of expert Commissioners to define, etc.

Vol. 27, p. 966.

(1) From a point at the mouth of the St. Croix River defined by the ranges established by them, by a connected series of six straight lines defined by ranges and cross ranges, to a point between Treat Island and Friar Head, likewise defined by ranges and cross ranges established by them; and also

Location of line.

(2) From a point in Quoddy Roads, defined by the intersection of the range passing through the position of the Beacon of 1886 and Lubec Channel Light, with a range established by them on the west shore of Quoddy Roads along the course of this latter range, which is about 80° 35' east of true south, into the Bay of Fundy.

Established range marks, etc., to control.

In ascertaining the location of the above-described line, the Commissioners shall be controlled by the indications of the range marks and monuments established along its course by said former Commissioners and by the charts upon which the said Commissioners marked the line as tentatively agreed upon by them.

Unadjusted line to be determined.

The remaining portion of the line, lying between the two above-described sections, and upon the location of which said former Commissioners did not agree, shall pass through the center of the Lubec Narrows Channel between Campo Bello Island and the mainland, and, subject to the provisions hereinafter stated, it shall follow on either side of the said Narrows such courses as will connect with the parts of the line agreed upon as aforesaid, and such boundary shall consist of a series of straight lines defined by distances and courses; but inasmuch as differences have arisen in the past as to the location of the line with respect to Pope's Folly Island above Lubec Narrows and with respect to certain fishing grounds east of the dredged channel below Lubec Narrows, it is agreed that each of the High Contracting Parties shall present to the other within six months after the ratification of this Treaty a full printed statement of the evidence, with certified copies of original documents referred to therein which are in its possession, and the arguments upon which it bases its contentions, with a view to arriving at an adjustment of the location of this portion of the line in accordance with the true intent and meaning of the provisions relating thereto of the treaties of 1783 and 1814 between the United States and Great Britain, and the award of the Commissioners appointed in that behalf under the treaty of 1814; it being understood that any action by either or both Governments or their representatives authorized in that behalf or by the local governments on either side of the line, whether prior or subsequent to such treaties and award, tending to aid in the interpretation thereof, shall be taken into consideration in determining their true intent and meaning. Such agreement, if reached, shall be reduced to writing in the form of a protocol and shall be communicated to the said Commissioners, who shall lay down and mark this portion of the boundary in accordance therewith and as herein provided.

Public Treaties, pp. 266, 288.

Arbitration upon failure to agree.

In the event of a failure to agree within six months after the date of exchanging the printed statements aforesaid, the question of which Government is entitled to jurisdiction over such island and fishing grounds under treaty provisions, and proceedings thereunder, interpreted in accordance with their true intent and meaning as above provided, and by reason of any rights arising under the recognized principles of international law, shall be referred forthwith for decision upon the evidence and arguments submitted as aforesaid, with such additional statement of facts as may be appropriate, and an argument in reply on each side, to an arbitrator to be agreed upon by the two Governments, or, in case of a failure to agree, to be appointed by a third Power selected by the two Governments by common accord, or, if no agreement is thus arrived at, each Government shall select a different Power and the choice of the arbitrator shall be made in concert by the Powers thus selected. The decision of such arbitrator shall be final, and the line shall be laid down and marked by the said Commissioners in accordance therewith and as herein provided.

Costs and expenses.

The arbitrator shall be requested to deliver, together with his award, a statement of all the costs and expenses incurred by him in connection with the arbitration, which shall forthwith be repaid by the two Governments in equal moieties.

It is further agreed that if, under the foregoing provisions, the boundary be located through the channel to the east of the dredged channel above mentioned, the latter shall be equally free and open for the passage of ships, vessels, and boats of both parties.

Free channel.

The entire boundary shall be marked by permanent range marks established on land and, if desirable in the opinion of Commissioners, by buoys in the water, so far as practicable, and by such other boundary marks and monuments and at such points as the Commissioners may determine to be necessary; but the said Commissioners shall proceed to define and mark and chart the portion of the line agreed upon by the former Commissioners under the Treaty of 1892 aforesaid without waiting for the final determination of the location of the remaining portion of the line.

Range marks and buoys to be established.

The course of the said boundary line as defined and marked as aforesaid shall be laid down by said Commissioners on quadruplicate sets of accurate modern charts prepared or adopted by them for that purpose, which charts shall be certified and signed by the Commissioners, and two duplicate originals thereof shall be filed by them with each Government; and they shall also prepare in duplicate and file with each Government a joint report or reports under their hands and seals describing in detail the course and location of the boundary line and the range marks and monuments and buoys marking it.

Charts and reports.

The line so defined and laid down shall be taken and deemed to be the international boundary from the Bay of Fundy to the mouth of the St. Croix River, as established by treaty provisions and the proceedings thereunder.

Declaration of boundary line.

ARTICLE II.

The boundary from the mouth to the source of the St. Croix River.

Whereas Article II of the Treaty of 1783 between the United States and Great Britain provides that a line drawn along the middle of the River St. Croix from its mouth in the Bay of Fundy to its source shall be, between those points, the international boundary between the United States and the British possessions in North America, and the identity of the River St. Croix has been determined by the Commissioners appointed for that purpose under Article V of the Treaty of 1794 between the United States and Great Britain, and the location of the mouth and the source of said river has been duly established, and the course of said river has been described, surveyed, and charted by said Commissioners, as appears from their joint report dated the 25th day of October, 1798, and from the chart or plan of said river prepared and filed by them with said report, but said line of boundary along the middle of said river was not laid down by them on said chart or plan, and was not marked or monumented by them along the course of said river; and whereas, pursuant to an additional article, dated March 15, 1798, supplementing the provisions of the Treaty of 1794 above referred to, a monument was erected by joint action of the two Governments marking the source of the River St. Croix, but said line of boundary through the River St. Croix has not otherwise been monumented and has never been laid down on charts by joint action of the two Governments: therefore, in order to complete and render thoroughly effective the demarkation of the boundary described and established as aforesaid, Boundary from mouth to source of St. Croix River to be established, etc.

Public Treaties, p. 283.

It is agreed that each of the High Contracting Parties shall appoint, without delay, an expert geographer or surveyor as a Commissioner, and the Commissioners so appointed shall jointly lay down upon accurate modern charts, to be prepared or adopted by them for that purpose, the line of boundary along the middle of the River St. Croix from its mouth to its source as defined and established by the existing treaty provisions and the proceedings thereunder, above referred to, with the agreed understanding, however, that the line of boundary through said river shall be a water line throughout and shall follow the center of the main channel or thalweg as naturally existing, except where such course would change, or disturb, or conflict with the national character of an island as already established by mutual recognition and acquiescence, in which case the line shall pass on the other side of any such island, following the middle of the channel nearest thereto, or, if the Commissioners find that the national character of any island is in dispute, the question of its nationality shall be submitted by them to their respective Governments, with a chart or map certified jointly by said Commissioners, showing the depth and volume of the water at its high and low stages between such island and the river banks on each side and indicating the course of the main channel of the river as it passes such island, together with a descriptive statement by said Commissioners showing the reasons for selecting such channel as the main channel; and in all such cases the High Contracting Parties agree that the location of the boundary with respect to each island in dispute shall be determined and settled in accordance with the following rules:

Rules.

(1) The nationality of each island in dispute shall be determined by the predominance of the claims established on either side to such island, arising from the exercise of jurisdiction and sovereignty over it, including such exercise of jurisdiction by the local governments on either side of the line.

(2) The burden of proving the nationality of any such island shall be upon the party seeking to change the general course of the boundary as above prescribed so as to include such island on its own side of the boundary.

(3) The selection by the Commissioners of the main channel passing such island shall not be conclusive upon the parties hereto and is subject to review, but the burden of proving the main channel to be other than the one selected shall be upon the party proposing the change.

Determining nationality of certain islands.

The Government proposing such change in the prescribed course of the boundary shall, upon the submission of the question of the nationality of any island or islands by the Commissioners as aforesaid, promptly present to the other Government a printed statement, with certified copies of any original documents in its possession referred to therein, showing the grounds and arguments upon which its claim of jurisdiction and ownership with respect to such island rests. Unless an agreement is reached upon the presentation of such statement, the Government to which such statement is presented shall within six months after its receipt present in reply a similar statement showing the grounds and arguments upon which the claims of the other Government are contested. If an agreement is reached between the two Governments, it shall be reduced to writing in the form of a protocol and shall be communicated to the said Commissioners, who shall proceed to lay down and mark the boundary so as to leave such island on the side of the boundary to which it is shown it belongs, in accordance with the determination of its nationality arrived at as aforesaid.

Arbitration upon failure to agree.

In the event of a failure by the two Governments to come to an agreement within six months after the presentation of the printed statements in reply herein above provided for, then the question of the nationality of the islands in dispute shall be referred forthwith for decision under the rules herein above set forth for the determination of that question, and under the recognized principles of international law not inconsistent therewith, and upon the evidence and arguments submitted as aforesaid, with such additional statement of facts as may be appropriate, and such further printed argument on each side as may be desired, to an arbitrator to be agreed upon by the two Governments, or, in case of a failure to agree, to be appointed by a third Power selected by the two Governments by common accord, or, if no agreement is thus arrived at, each Government shall select a different Power and the choice of the arbitrator shall be made in concert by the Powers thus selected. The decision of such arbitrator shall be final, and the line shall be laid down and marked by the said Commissioners in accordance therewith and as herein provided.

Decision final.

The arbitrator shall be requested to deliver, together with his award, a statement of all the costs and expenses incurred by him in connection with the arbitration, which shall forthwith be repaid by the two Governments in equal moieties.

Costs and expenses.

It is further agreed that so far as practicable the said Commissioners shall establish boundary monuments and ranges and buoys marking the course and location of the said line, and showing on which side of the boundary the several islands lying in said river belong, wherever in their judgment it is desirable that the boundary be so marked.

Boundary monuments and buoys to be established.

The charts upon which the boundary is marked as aforesaid shall be in quadruplicate, and shall be certified and signed by said Commissioners, and two duplicate originals thereof shall be filed by them with each Government, and it shall also be the duty of said Commissioners to prepare in duplicate, and file with each Government, a joint report under their hands and seals describing the line so marked by them and the monuments and range marks and buoys marking it.

Charts to be filed.

The line so defined and laid down shall be taken and deemed to be the international boundary from the mouth to the source of the St. Croix River as established by treaty provisions and the proceedings thereunder as aforesaid.

ARTICLE III.

The boundary from the source of the St. Croix River to the St. Lawrence River.

Whereas the remonumenting of the course of the boundary defined and laid down under the provisions of Articles I and VI of the Treaty of August 9, 1842, between the United States and Great Britain has already been undertaken without a formal treaty agreement, but by the joint and concurrent action of the Governments of the United States and Great Britain, certain monuments between Vermont and Canada having been relocated in 1849, and the portion of said boundary extending between Hall's Stream and the St. Lawrence River in part having been remonumented in recent years and in part is now being remonumented under such action on both sides; and whereas the Commissioners appointed under Article VI of the Treaty of 1842 aforesaid were required to and did mark by monuments the land portion only of said line, and were not required to and did not mark by monuments the portions of the boundary extending along water courses, with the exception that the nationality of the several islands in the St. John River was indicated by monuments erected thereon and a series of monuments was placed by them along the edge of certain of the water courses to fix the general direction of the boundary, most of which monuments have since disappeared, but the entire boundary, including its course through the waterways as well as on land, was charted and marked on maps by said Commissioners under the provisions of Article VI above referred to, and the nationality of the respective islands in the St. John River was determined by them, as appears from the joint report filed by said Commissioners dated June 28, 1847, and the series of maps signed by said Commissioners and filed with their joint report; and whereas the portion of the line through said waterways has not since been monumented or marked along its course by joint action of the two Governments, and the monuments placed by said Commissioners along the land portion of said boundary require repairing and renewing where such work has not already been done in recent years, and additional or supplementary intermediate monuments at convenient points are required under modern conditions: therefore, in order to carry on and complete the work already undertaken as aforesaid, and to reestablish the location of said boundary and render thoroughly effective the demarcation of the said boundary as existent and established, Commissioners to relocate, etc., monuments.

It is agreed that each of the High Contracting Parties shall appoint, without delay, an expert geographer or surveyor as a Commissioner, and under the joint direction of such Commissioners the lost or damaged boundary monuments shall be relocated and repaired, and additional monuments and boundary marks shall be established wherever necessary in the judgment of the Commissioners to meet the requirements of modern conditions along the course of the land portion of said boundary, and where the said boundary runs through waterways it shall be marked along its course, so far as practicable, by buoys and monuments in the water and by permanent ranges established on the land, and in such other way and at such points as in the judgment of the Commissioners it is desirable that the boundary be so marked; and it is further agreed that the course of the entire boundary, as described in Article I of the Treaty of 1842 and as laid down as aforesaid under Article VI of that Treaty, shall be marked by said Commissioners upon quadruplicate sets of accurate modern charts prepared or adopted by them for that purpose, and that said charts so marked shall be certified and signed by them and two duplicate originals thereof shall be filed with each Government, and said Commissioners shall also prepare in duplicate and file with each Government a joint report or reports describing in detail the course of the boundary so marked by them, and the character and location of the several monuments and boundary marks and ranges marking it.

Boundary from intersection with St. Lawrence River to mouth of Pigeon River.

The High Contracting Parties agree that the existing International Waterways Commission, constituted by concurrent action of the United States and the Dominion of Canada and composed of three Commissioners on the part of the United States and three Commissioners on the part of the Dominion of Canada, is hereby authorized and empowered to ascertain and reestablish accurately the location of the international boundary line beginning at the point of its intersection with the St. Lawrence River near the forty-fifth parallel of north latitude, as determined under Articles I and VI of the Treaty of August 9, 1842, between the United States and Great Britain, and

The majority of the Commissioners shall have power to render a decision.

The line so defined and laid down shall be taken and deemed to be the international boundary as defined and established by treaty provisions and the proceedings thereunder as aforesaid from its intersection with the St. Lawrence River to the mouth of Pigeon River.

It is agreed that each of the High Contracting Parties shall appoint, without delay, an expert geographer or surveyor as Commissioners, who shall reestablish and fix the actual location of said entire boundary described and charted as aforesaid, and designate the side of the boundary upon which each island adjacent to the boundary belongs, it being mutually understood that the boundary, so far as practicable, shall be a water line and shall not intersect islands lying along its course, and the Commissioners shall so far as practicable mark such boundary along its course by monuments and buoys and range marks, and such other boundary marks as the Commissioners may determine, and at such points as in their judgment it is desirable that the boundary shall be so marked; and it is further agreed that the course of the entire boundary as described and laid down as aforesaid and as monumented by said Commissioners shall be marked by them upon quadruplicate sets of accurate modern charts prepared or adopted by them for that purpose, and that said charts so marked shall be certified and signed by them and two duplicate originals thereof shall be filed with each Government, and said Commissioners shall also prepare in duplicate and file with each Government a joint report or reports describing in detail the course of the boundary so marked by them and the character and location of the several monuments and boundary marks and ranges marking it.

Boundary from northwesternmost point of Lake of the Woods to summit of Rocky Mountains.

In order to complete and render thoroughly effective the demarcation of the international boundary between the United States and the Dominion of Canada from the northwesternmost point of the Lake of the Woods to the summit of the Rocky Mountains, which boundary, according to existing treaties, runs due south from said northwesternmost point to the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude and thence along that parallel to the summit of the Rocky Mountains, and has been surveyed and charted and monumented as appears from the series of twenty-four sectional maps covering this portion of the boundary prepared and filed by the Joint Commission appointed for that purpose by joint action of the two Governments in 1872, Commissioners to re-locate, etc., lost, etc., monuments.

It is agreed that each of the High Contracting Parties shall appoint, without delay, an expert geographer or surveyor as a Commissioner, and under the joint direction of such Commissioners lost or damaged monuments along the course of said boundary shall be recated and repaired and additional monuments and boundary marks shall be established wherever necessary, in the judgment of the Commissioners, to meet the requirements of modern conditions and to render more effective the demarcation of the existent boundary established under the treaty provisions and proceedings thereunder as aforesaid; and it is further agreed that in carrying out these provisions the said Commissioners shall observe the agreement stated in the protocol of the final meeting, dated May 29, 1876, of the Joint Commission aforesaid, which is as follows:

“2. In the intervals between the monuments along the parallel of latitude, it is agreed that the line has the curvature of a parallel of 49° north latitude; and that such characteristic shall determine all questions that may hereafter arise with reference to the position of the boundary at any point between neighboring monuments.

“3. It is further agreed that, in the event of any of the said three hundred and eighty-eight monuments or marks being obliterated beyond the power of recognition, the lost site or sites shall be recovered by their recorded position relatively to the next neighboring unobliterated mark or marks.”

It is further agreed that the said Commissioners shall mark upon quadruplicate sets of accurate modern charts prepared or adopted by them for that purpose the entire course of said boundary and the location of the boundary monuments and marks established along the course of said boundary, and two duplicate originals thereof shall be filed with each Government, and said Commissioners shall also prepare in duplicate and file with each Government a joint report describing in detail the work done by them in replacing and repairing lost or damaged monuments and the character and location of the several monuments and boundary marks placed by them along said boundary.

Boundary from forty-ninth parallel to Pacific Ocean.

The High Contracting Parties agree that each shall appoint, without delay, an expert geographer or surveyor to serve as Commissioner for the purpose of delineating upon accurate modern charts, prepared or adopted by them for that purpose, the international boundary line between the United States and the Dominion of Canada from the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude along the middle of the channel which separates Vancouver's Island from the mainland and the middle of the Haro Channel and of Fuca's Straits to the Pacific Ocean, as defined in Article I of the Treaty of June 15, 1846, between the United States and Great Britain, and as determined by the award made on October 21, 1872, by the Emperor of Germany as arbitrator pursuant to the provisions of Articles XXXIV–XLII of the Treaty of May 8, 1871, between the United States and Great Britain, and as traced out and marked on a quadruplicate set of charts prepared for that purpose and agreed upon and signed by the duly authorized representatives of the respective Governments, as appears from the protocol of a conference at Washington on March 10, 1873, between such representatives which was signed by them on that date, and as defined by them in a written definition of said boundary signed by them and referred to in and attached to said protocol, and it is agreed that the said Commissioners shall adopt in place of the curved line passing between Saturna Island and Patos Island as shown on said charts a straight line running approximately north and south through a point midway between the eastern point of Saturna Island and the western point of Patos Island and intersecting the prolongations of the two straight lines of the boundary now joined by a curved line. The entire line thus laid down shall consist of a series of connecting straight lines defined by distances and courses; and the Commissioners are authorized to select and establish such reference marks on shore as they may deem necessary for the proper definition and location on the water of the boundary aforesaid. A quadruplicate set of such charts, showing the lines so laid down and marked by them and the location of the several marks or monuments selected or established by them along its course, shall be signed by them and two duplicate originals thereof shall be filed by them with each Government, and the Commissioners shall also prepare in duplicate and

The Commissioners appointed under the provisions of this Treaty shall proceed without delay to perform the duties assigned to them, but each Commissioner shall, before entering upon his duties, make oath in writing that he will impartially and faithfully perform his duties as such Commissioner. General provisions.

In case a vacancy occurs in any of the Commissions constituted by this Treaty, by reason of the death, resignation, or other disability of a Commissioner, before the work of such Commission is completed, the vacancy so caused shall be filled forthwith by the appointment of another Commissioner by the party on whose side the vacancy occurs, and the Commissioner so appointed shall have the same powers and be subject to the same duties and obligations as the Commissioner originally appointed. Oath of commissioners.

If a dispute or difference should arise about the location or demarcation of any portion of the boundary covered by the provisions of this Treaty and an agreement with respect thereto is not reached by the Commissioners charged herein with locating and marking such portion of the line, they shall make a report in writing jointly to both Governments, or severally each to his own Government, setting out fully the questions in dispute and the differences between them, but such Commissioners shall, nevertheless, proceed to carry on and complete as far as possible the work herein assigned to them with respect to the remaining portions of the line. Vacancies.

In case of such a disagreement between the Commissioners, the two Governments shall endeavor to agree upon an adjustment of the questions in dispute, and if an agreement is reached between the two Governments it shall be reduced to writing in the form of a protocol, and shall be communicated to the said Commissioners, who shall proceed to lay down and mark the boundary in accordance therewith, and as herein provided, but without prejudice to the special provisions contained in Articles I and II regarding arbitration. Report on failure to agree.

It is understood that under the foregoing articles the same persons will be appointed to carry out the delimitation of boundaries in the several sections aforesaid, other than the section covered by Article IV, unless either of the Contracting Powers finds it expedient for some reason which it may think sufficient to appoint some other person to be Commissioner for any one of the above-mentioned sections. The sender of each parcel shall make a customs declaration, in duplicate, both copies to be pasted upon or attached to the package, upon a special form provided for the purpose (see Forms 2 and 2<sup>bis</sup> annexed hereto) giving a general description of the parcel, an accurate statement of its contents, and value, date of mailing, and the sender's signature and place of residence, and the place of destination.

2. The contracting Administrations decline any responsibility as to the correctness of the customs declarations.

ARTICLE VIII.

Retention of fees. Each country shall retain to its own use the whole of the postages and delivery fees it collects on said parcels; consequently, this Convention will give rise to no separate accounts between the two countries.

ARTICLE IX.

ARTICLE VII.

1. L'expéditeur doit établir pour chaque colis une déclaration en douane en double expédition sur une formule spéciale fournie à cet effet (voir les formules 2 et 2 bis ci-annexées); il collera ces deux copies sur le colis même ou les fixera à ce dernier. Cette déclaration donnera une description générale du colis, l'indication exacte de son contenu, sa valeur, la date du dépôt, la signature et la résidence de l'expéditeur, et le lieu de destination.

2. Les Administrations contractantes déclinent toute responsabilité quant à l'exactitude des déclarations en douane.

ARTICLE VIII.

Chaque pays conserve à son profit la totalité des taxes de transport, et de factage qu'il perçoit sur les colis postaux; conséquemment la présente convention ne donne pas lieu à l'établissement de comptes spéciaux entre les deux pays.

ARTICLE IX.

1. Les colis feront l'objet de dépêches distinctes à échanger directement entre la France et les Etats-Unis. Le pays d'origine doit expédier ses dépêches au pays de destination à ses frais et par les moyens dont il dispose. Les colis doivent être transmis au

They must be forwarded, at the option of the dispatching office, either in boxes or baskets prepared expressly for the purpose, or in ordinary mail sacks, marked "Parcel-Post." "Colis-Postaux," and securely sealed with wax, or otherwise, as may be mutually agreed upon.

2. Each country shall promptly return empty to the dispatching office by next mail all such receptacles; unless some other arrangement shall be mutually agreed to.

ARTICLE X.

Each dispatch of a Parcel-Post mail must be accompanied by a descriptive list, in duplicate, of all the parcels sent, showing distinctly the number of each parcel, the office of origin, the name of the addressee with address of destination, and the declared contents and value. 4. If a parcel advised on the bill be not received, after the non-receipt has been verified by a second officer, the entry on the bill should be canceled and the fact reported at once.

2. Chaque pays renverra au bureau expéditeur par le plus prochain courrier tous ces recipients vides, sauf arrangement contraire à intervenir à ce sujet.

ARTICLE X.

Chaque envoi de colis postaux doit être accompagné d'une feuille de route descriptive, en double exemplaire, mentionnant tous les colis expédiés, leur numéro d'ordre, le bureau d'origine, le nom et l'adresse du destinataire, la déclaration du contenu et de la valeur. Cette liste, conforme à la formule No. 3 ci-jointe, doit être insérée dans l'un des récipients composant la dépêche.

2. Si la feuille de route n'est pas jointe, il en est établi une d'office immédiatement.

3. Toutes les erreurs dans les inscriptions de la feuille de route qui viendraient à être découvertes, seront, après vérification par un second agent, rectifiées et annotées pour être signalées au bureau expéditeur au moyen d'un "Bulletin de Vérification" envoyé sous enveloppe spéciale.

4. Si un colis inscrit sur la feuille de route n'est pas parvenu, après que le manquant a été constaté par un second agent, l'inscription sur la feuille sera anulée et le fait immédiatement signalé.

ARTICLE XII.

1. Tout colis reçu en fausse direction est immédiatement retourné au bureau d'échange expéditeur. L'erreur est signalée au moyen d'un bulletin de vérification.

2. L'expéditeur d'un colis qui ne peut être livré à son adresse ou qui est refusé par le destinataire doit être consulté (par l'intermédiaire de l'Administration du pays d'origine) sur la manière dont il entend en disposer. Si, dans un délai de deux mois à partir de l'expédition de l'avis de non remise, le bureau de destination n'a pas reçu les instructions de l'expéditeur, le colis est renvoyé à l'origine.

3. Les colis réexpédiés d'un pays à l'autre ou retournés à la demande de l'expéditeur sont passibles d'un droit supplémentaire à percevoir sur la base des taxes fixées par l'article V, lequel droit pourra être perçu d'avance ou à la livraison, selon qu'on le jugera convenable. Les colis réexpédiés d'une adresse à l'autre dans le pays de destination sont passibles des droits supplémentaires prescrits par les règlements intérieurs de ce pays.

4. Quand le contenu d'un colis qui n'a pu être livré est susceptible de détérioration ou de corruption, il peut être vendu immédiatement, sans avis préalable ni formalités judiciaires, au profit de l'ayant droit; il est dressé un procès-verbal de la vente qui est transmis à l'office expéditeur.

tion to the other. The proceeds of the sale shall be devoted to paying the charges on the parcel; the remainder, if any, shall be sent to the office of origin to be paid to the sender. If for any reason a sale is impossible the spoilt or worthless articles are destroyed or handed over to the customs.

5. With the reservation that the formalities prescribed for Administrative reasons by the Administrations concerned be complied with, the customs duties on parcels which have to be sent back to the country of origin or redirected to a third country shall be canceled both in the United States and in France.

ARTICLE XIII.

Neither of the contracting Administrations will be responsible for the loss or damage of any parcel, consequently no indemnity can be claimed by the sender or addressee in either country.

ARTICLE XIV.

2. The internal legislation of both the United States and France shall remain applicable as regards everything not provided for by the stipulations contained in the present Convention.

La somme réalisée par la vente servira, en premier lieu, à payer les droits dont le colis était grevé. La différence, s'il en existe, sera remise à l'office d'origine pour être payée à l'expéditeur. Si pour une raison quelconque la vente est impossible les objets avariés ou devenus sans valeur sont détruits ou livrés à la douane.

5. Sous réserve de l'accomplissement des formalités prescrites, à titre de mesures de contrôle par les administrations intéressées, les droits de douane appliqués aux colis à renvoyer au pays d'origine ou à réexpédier sur un autre pays sont annulés aussi bien en France qu'aux Etats-Unis.

Cancellation of duties, etc.

Ante, p. 2016.

3. Les Administrations Postales des deux pays contractants se communiqueront mutuellement, de temps en temps, leurs dispositions législatives ou réglementaires applicables au transport des colis postaux.

4. Elles détermineront le mode de transmission de ces colis et établiront tels règlements de détail et d'ordre reconnus nécessaires pour l'exécution de la présente Convention. Who, having made an interchange of their powers, and found them good, have agreed to adopt, ad referendum, the following propositions:

CHAPTER I.

Regulations to be observed by the powers signatory to the convention as soon as plague, cholera or yellow fever may appear in their territory.

Regulations.

Section I. Notification and subsequent communications to other countries.

ARTICLE I. Each government should immediately notify other governments of the first appearance in its territory of authentic cases of plague, cholera or yellow fever.

Notification.

ARTICLE II. This notification is to be accompanied, or very promptly followed, by the following additional information:

Additional information.

- (1) The neighborhood where the disease has appeared.
- (2) The date of its appearance, its origin, and its form.
- (3) The number of established cases, and the number of deaths.
- (4) For plague: The existence among rats or mice of plague, or of an unusual mortality; for yellow fever: The existence of stegomyia fasciata in the locality.
- (5) The measures taken immediately after the first appearance.

ARTICLE III. The notification and the information prescribed in Articles I and II are to be addressed to diplomatic and consular agents in the capital of the infected country; but this is to be construed as not preventing direct communication between officials charged with the public health of the several countries.

To whom sent.

For countries which are not thus represented, they are to be transmitted directly by telegraph to the governments of such countries.

Further communications.

ARTICLE IV. The notification and the information prescribed in Articles I and II are to be followed by further communications dispatched in a regular manner in order to keep the governments informed of the progress of the epidemic.

These communications, which are to be made at least once a week, and which are to be as complete as possible, should indicate in detail the precautions taken to prevent the extension of the disease.

They should set forth: First, the prophylactic measures taken relative to sanitary or medical inspection, to isolation and disinfection; Second, the measures taken relative to departing vessels to prevent the exportation of the disease, and, especially under the circumstances mentioned in paragraph 4 of Article II of this section, the measures taken against rats and mosquitoes.

Prompt notifications required.

ARTICLE V. The prompt and faithful execution of the preceding provisions is of the very first importance.

The notifications only have a real value if each government is warned in time of cases of plague, cholera or yellow fever and of suspicious cases of those diseases supervening in its territory. It cannot then be too strongly recommended to the various governments to make obligatory the declaration of cases of plague, cholera or yellow fever, and of giving information of all unusual mortality of rats and mice especially in ports.

Special arrangements for direct information.

ARTICLE VI. It is understood that neighboring countries reserve to themselves the right to make special arrangements with a view of organizing a service of direct information between the chiefs of administration upon the frontiers.

Section II. Conditions showing a given territorial area to be infected, or to have been freed from infection.

Conditions affecting certain territorial area.

ARTICLE VII. Information of a first case of plague, cholera or yellow fever does not justify against a territorial area where it may appear, the application of the measures prescribed in Chapter II as hereinafter indicated.

Upon the occurrence of several non-imported cases of plague, or a non-imported case of yellow fever or when cases of cholera form a focus, the area is to be declared infected.

Limiting measures to affected regions.

ARTICLE VIII. To limit the measures to the affected regions alone, governments should only apply them to persons and articles proceeding from the contaminated or infected areas.

Meaning of word "area."

By the word "area" is understood a well determined portion of territory described in the information which accompanies or follows notification, thus, a province, a state, "a government," a district, a department, a canton, an island, a commune, a city, a quarter of a city, a village, a port, a "polder," a hamlet, etc., whatever may be the extent and population of these portions of territory.

Preventive measures by country affected.

But this restriction, limited to the infected area, should only be accepted upon the formal condition that the government of the infected country shall take the necessary measures; 1, to prevent, unless previously disinfected, the exportation of articles named in 1 and 2 of Article XII, coming from the contaminated area; and 2, measures to prevent the extension of the epidemic; and provided further that there be no doubt that the sanitary authorities of the infected country have faithfully complied with Article I of this Convention.

When an area is infected, no restrictive measure is to be taken against departures from this area if these departures have occurred five days, at least, before the beginning of the epidemic.

ARTICLE IX. That an area should no longer be considered as infected, official proof must be furnished: Official proof of noninfection.

First, That there has been neither a death nor a new case of plague or cholera for five days after isolation,<sup>1</sup> death, or cure of the last plague or cholera case. In the case of yellow fever the period shall be eighteen days, but each government may reserve the right to extend this period.

Second, That all the measures of disinfection have been applied; in the case of plague, that the precautions against rats have been observed, and in the case of yellow fever that the measures against mosquitoes have been executed.

CHAPTER II.

Measures of defense by other countries against territories declared to be infected. Measures against infected territories.

Section I. Publication of prescribed measures.

ARTICLE X. The government of each country is obliged to immediately publish the measures which it believes necessary to take against departures either from a country or from an infected territorial area. Prescribed measures to be published.

The said government is to communicate at once this publication to the diplomatic or consular agent of the infected country residing in its capital as well as to the International Sanitary Bureau.

The government shall be equally obliged to make known through the same channels the revocation of these measures or modifications which may be made in them. Notice of revocation, etc.

In default of a diplomatic or consular agency in the capital, communications are made directly to the government of the country interested.

Section II. Merchandise—Disinfection—Importation and Transit—Baggage.

ARTICLE XI. There exists no merchandise which is of itself capable of transmitting plague, cholera or yellow fever. It only becomes dangerous in case it is soiled by pestous or choleraic products, or, in the case of yellow fever, when such merchandise may harbor mosquitoes. Merchandise and baggage.
Treatment of ARTICLE XII. No merchandise or objects shall be subjected to disinfection on account of yellow fever, but in cases covered by the previous article the vehicle of transportation may be subjected to fumigation to destroy mosquitoes. In the case of cholera and plague disinfection should only be applied to merchandise and objects which the local sanitary authority considers as infected. Fumigating transportation vehicles.

Nevertheless, merchandise, or objects enumerated hereafter, may be subjected to disinfection, or prohibited entry, independently of all proof that they may or may not be infected: Disinfecting, etc., merchandise.

1. Body linen, wearing apparel in use, clothing which has been worn, bedding already used. Body linen, etc.

When these objects are transported as baggage, or in the course of a change of residence (household furniture), they should not be prohibited, and are to be subjected to the regulations prescribed by Article XIX. Household furniture.

<sup>1</sup> The word "isolation" signifies isolation of the patient, of the persons who care for him and the forbidding of visits of all other persons, the physician excepted. By isolation in the case of yellow fever is understood the isolation of the patient in an apartment so screened as to prevent the access of mosquitoes.

Soldiers' and sailors' baggage.

Baggage left by soldiers and sailors, and returned to their country after death, are considered as objects comprised in the first paragraph of No. 1 of this article.

Rags.

2. Rags, and rags for making paper, with the exception, as to cholera, of rags which are transported as merchandise in large quantities compressed in bales held together by hoops.

Shoddy, etc.

New clippings coming directly from spinning mills, weaving mills, manufactories or bleacheries, shoddy, and clippings of new paper, should not be forbidden.

Transit of merchandise through infected districts, etc.

ARTICLE XIII. In the case of cholera and plague there is no reason to forbid the transit through an infected district of merchandise, and the objects specified in Nos. 1 and 2 of the preceding article if they are so packed that they cannot have been exposed to infection in transit.

In like manner, when merchandise or objects are so transported that, in transit, they cannot come in contact with soiled objects, their transit across an infected territorial area should not be an obstacle to their entry into the country of destination.

Articles not prohibited.

ARTICLE XIV. The entry of merchandise and objects specified in Nos. 1 and 2 of Article XII should not be prohibited, if it can be shown to the authorities of the country of destination that they were shipped at least five days before the beginning of the epidemic.

Destruction of rats and mosquitoes.

ARTICLE XV. The method and place of disinfection, as well as the measures to be employed for the destruction of rats, and mosquitoes, are to be fixed by authority of the country of destination, upon arrival at said destination. These operations should be performed in such a manner as to cause the least possible injury to the merchandise.

Damages.

It devolves upon each country to determine questions relative to the payment of damages resulting from disinfection, or from the destruction of rats or mosquitoes.

Taxes levied by sanitary authority.

If taxes are levied by a sanitary authority, either directly or through the agency of any company or agent, to insure measures for the destruction of rats and mosquitoes on board ships, the amount of these taxes ought to be fixed by a tariff published in advance, and the result of these measures should not be a source of profit for either state or sanitary authorities.

Letters, etc., not subject to restrictions, etc.

ARTICLE XVI. Letters and correspondence, printed matter, books, newspapers, business papers, etc. (postal parcels not included), are not to be submitted to any restriction or disinfection. In case of yellow fever postal parcels are not to be subjected to any restrictions or disinfection.

Merchandise at frontier ports.

ARTICLE XVII. Merchandise, arriving by land or by sea, should not be detained permanently at frontiers or in ports.

Measures which it is permissible to prescribe with respect to them are specified in Article XII.

Merchandise contaminated during transit.

Nevertheless, when merchandise, arriving by sea in bulk (vrac) or in defective packages, is contaminated by pest-stricken rats during the passage, and is incapable of being disinfected, the destruction of the germs may be assured by putting said merchandise in a warehouse for a period to be decided by the sanitary authorities of the port of arrival.

It is to be understood that the application of this last measure should not entail delay upon any vessel nor extraordinary expenses resulting from the want of warehouses in ports.

Certificate to owner.

ARTICLE XVIII. When merchandise has been disinfected by the application of the measures prescribed in Article XII, or put temporarily in warehouses in accordance with the third paragraph of Article XVII, the owner, or his representative, has the right to demand from the sanitary authority which has ordered such disinfection, or storage, a certificate setting forth the measures taken.

ARTICLE XIX. Baggage. In the case of soiled linen, bed clothing, clothing and objects forming a part of baggage or furniture coming from a territorial area declared contaminated, disinfection is only to be practiced in cases where the sanitary authority considers them as contaminated. There shall be no disinfection of baggage on account of yellow fever.

Baggage.

Section III. Measures in ports and at maritime frontiers.

ARTICLE XX. Classification of ships. A ship is considered as infected which has plague, cholera or yellow fever on board, or which has presented one or more cases of plague or cholera within seven days, or a case of yellow fever at any time during the voyage.

Measures in ports, etc.
Classification of vessels.

A ship is considered as suspected on board of which there have been a case or cases of plague or cholera at the time of departure or during the voyage, but no new case within seven days; also such ships as have lain in such proximity to the infected shore as to render them liable to the access of mosquitoes.

The ship is considered indemne, which, although coming from an infected port, has had neither death nor case of plague, cholera or yellow fever on board, either before departure, during the voyage, or at the time of arrival, and which in the case of yellow fever has not lain in such proximity to the shore, as to render it liable, in the opinion of the sanitary authorities, to the access of mosquitoes.

ARTICLE XXI. Ships infected with plague are to be subjected to the following regulations:

Plague-infected ships.

1. Medical visit (Inspection).
2. The sick are to be immediately disembarked and isolated.
3. Other persons should also be disembarked, if possible, and subjected to an observation,<sup>1</sup> which should not exceed five days dating from the day of arrival.
4. Soiled linen, personal effects in use, the belongings of crew<sup>2</sup> and passengers which, in the opinion of the sanitary authorities are considered as infected should be disinfected.
5. The parts of the ship which have been inhabited by those stricken with plague, and such others as, in the opinion of the sanitary authorities are considered as infected, should be disinfected.
6. The destruction of rats on shipboard should be effected before or after the discharge of cargo, as rapidly as possible, and in all cases with a maximum delay of forty-eight hours, care being taken to avoid damage of merchandise, the vessel and its machinery.

For ships in ballast, this operation should be performed immediately before taking on cargo.

ARTICLE XXII. Ships suspected of plague, are to be subjected to the measures which are indicated in Nos. 1, 4 and 5 of Article XXI.

Suspected ships.

Further, the crew and passengers may be subjected to observation, which should not exceed five days, dating from the arrival of the ship. During the same time, the disembarkment of the crew may be forbidden, except for reasons of duty.

The destruction of rats on shipboard is recommended. This destruction is to be effected before or after the discharge of cargo, as quickly as possible, and in all cases with a maximum delay of forty-eight hours, taking care to avoid damage to merchandise, ships, and their machinery.

For ships in ballast, this operation should be done, if done at all, as early as possible, and in all cases before taking on cargo.

<sup>1</sup> The word "observation" signifies isolation of the passengers, either on board ship or at a sanitary station before being given free pratique.

<sup>2</sup> The term "crew" is applied to persons who may make, or, who have made, a part of the personnel of the vessel and of the administration thereof, including stewards, waiters, "cafedji," etc. The word is to be construed in this sense wherever employed in the present Convention.

Noninfected ships.

ARTICLE XXIII. Ships indemne from plague are to be admitted to free pratique immediately, whatever may be the nature of their bill of health.

Measures at ports of arrival.

The only regulation which the sanitary authorities at a port of arrival may prescribe for them consists of the following measures:

1. Medical visit (inspection).

2. Disinfection of soiled linen, articles of wearing apparel, and the other personal effects of the crew and passengers, but only in exceptional cases when the sanitary authorities have special reason to believe them infected.

3. Without demanding it as a general rule, the sanitary authorities may subject ships coming from an infected port to a process for the destruction of the rats on board before or after the discharge of cargo. This operation should be done as soon as possible, and in all cases should not last more than twenty-four hours, care being taken to avoid damaging merchandise, ships, and their machinery, and without interfering with the passing of passengers and crew between the ship and the shore. For ships in ballast, this procedure, if practiced, should be put in operation as soon as possible, and in all cases before taking on cargo.

When a ship coming from an infected port has been subjected to a process for the destruction of rats, this process should only be repeated if the ship has touched meanwhile at an infected port, and has been alongside a quay in such port, or if the presence of sick or dead rats on board is proven.

The crew and passengers may be subjected to a surveillance, which should not exceed five days, to be computed from the date when the ship sailed from the infected port. The landing of the crew may also, during the same time, be forbidden except for reasons of duty.

Competent authority at the port of arrival may always demand, under oath, a certificate of the ship's physician, or in default of a physician, of the captain, setting forth that there has not been a case of plague on board since departure, and that no marked mortality among the rats has been observed.

Ship with plague-stricken rats.

ARTICLE XXIV. When upon an indemne ship rats have been recognized as pest-stricken as a result of bacteriological examination, or when a marked mortality has been established among these rodents, the following measures should be applied:

1. Ships with plague-stricken rats:

(a) Medical visit (Inspection).

(b) Rats should be destroyed before or after the discharge of cargo, as rapidly as possible, and in all cases with a delay not to exceed forty-eight hours; the deterioration of merchandise, vessels and machinery to be avoided. Upon ships in ballast, this operation should be performed as soon as possible, and in all cases before taking on cargo.

(c) Such parts of the ship and such articles as the local sanitary authority regards as infected, shall be disinfected.

(d) Passengers and crew may be submitted to observation, the duration of which should not exceed five days, dating from the day of arrival, except in special cases where the sanitary authority may prolong the observation to a maximum of ten days.

2. Ships where a marked mortality among rats is observed:

(a) Medical visit (Inspection).

(b) An examination of rats, with a view to determining the existence of plague, should be made as quickly as possible.

(c) If the destruction of rats is judged necessary, it shall be accomplished under the conditions indicated above in the case of ships with plague-stricken rats.

(d) Until all suspicion may be eliminated, the passengers and crew may be submitted to observation the duration of which should not exceed five days, counting from the date of arrival, except in special cases, when the sanitary authority may prolong the observation to a maximum of ten days.

Ships where marked mortality among rats exists.

ARTICLE XXV. The sanitary authorities of the port must deliver to the captain, the owner, or his agent, whenever a demand for it is made, a certificate setting forth that the measures for the destruction of rats have been efficacious and indicating the reasons why these measures have been applied.

Certificate to captain, etc., of ship.

ARTICLE XXVI. Ships infected with cholera are to be subjected to the following regulations:

Cholera - infected ships.

1. Medical visit (Inspection).
2. The sick are to be immediately disembarked and isolated.
3. Other persons ought also to be disembarked, if possible, and subjected, dating from the arrival of the ship, to an observation, the duration of which shall not exceed five days.
4. Soiled linen, wearing apparel, and personal effects of crew and passengers which, in the opinion of the sanitary authority of the port, are considered as infected, are to be disinfected.
5. The parts of the ship which have been inhabited by persons sick with cholera, or which are considered by the sanitary authority as infected are to be disinfected.
6. The bilge-water is to be discharged after disinfection.

The sanitary authority may order the substitution of good potable water for that which is contained in the tanks on board.

The discharge or throwing overboard into the water of a port, of dejecta, shall be forbidden unless they have been previously disinfected.

ARTICLE XXVII. Ships suspected of cholera are to be subjected to measures prescribed under Nos. 1, 4, 5 and 6 of Article XXVI.

Cholera - suspected ships.

The crew and passengers may be subjected to an observation which should not exceed five days, to date from the arrival of the ship. It is recommended during the same time to prevent the debarkation of the crew except for reasons of duty.

ARTICLE XXVIII. Ships indemne of cholera are to be admitted to free pratique immediately, whatever may be the nature of their bill of health.

Ships not suspected of cholera.

The only regulations which the sanitary authorities of a port may prescribe in their case are the measures provided in Nos. 1, 4 and 6 of Article XXVI.

Regulations.

The crews and passengers may be submitted, in order to show their state of health, to an observation, which should not exceed five days to be computed from the date when the ship sailed from the infected port.

It is recommended that during the same time the debarkation of the crew be forbidden except for reasons of duty.

Competent authority at the port of arrival may always demand, under oath, a certificate from the ship's surgeon, or, in the absence of a surgeon, from the captain, setting forth that there has not been a case of cholera upon the ship since sailing.

ARTICLE XXIX. Competent authority will take account, in order to apply the measures indicated in Articles XXI to XXVIII, of the presence of a physician on board and a disinfecting apparatus in ships of the three categories mentioned above.

Physician, etc., on board.

In regard to plague, it will equally take account of the installation on board of apparatus for the destruction of rats.

Sanitary authorities of such countries, where it may be convenient to make such regulations, may dispense with the medical visit and other measures toward indemne ships which have on board a physician specially commissioned by their country.

ARTICLE XXX. Special measures may be prescribed in regard to crowded ships, notably emigrant ships, or any other ship presenting bad hygienic conditions.

Emigrant, etc., ships.

Ships objecting to enforcement of regulations.

ARTICLE XXXI. Any ship not desiring to be subjected to the obligations imposed by the authority of the port in virtue of the stipulations of the present Convention is free to proceed to sea.

It may be authorized to disembark its cargo after the necessary precautions shall have been taken; namely, First, isolation of the ship, its crew and passengers; Second, in regard to plague, demand for information relative to the existence of an unusual mortality among rats; Third, in regard to cholera, the discharge of the bilgewater after disinfection and the substitution of a good potable water for that which is provided on board the ship.

Authority may also be granted to disembark such passengers as may demand it, upon condition that these submit themselves to all measures prescribed by the local authorities.

Disinfected vessels arriving from infected ports.

ARTICLE XXXII. Ships coming from a contaminated port, which have been disinfected and which may have been subjected to sanitary measures applied in an efficient manner, shall not undergo a second time the same measures upon their arrival at a new port, provided that no new case shall have appeared since the disinfection was practiced, and that the ships have not touched in the meantime at an infected port.

When a ship only disembarks passengers and their baggage, or the mails, without having been in communication with terra firma it is not to be considered as having touched at a port, provided that in the case of yellow fever it has not approached sufficiently near the shore to permit the access of mosquitoes.

Certificates to passengers of infected ships.

ARTICLE XXXIII. Passengers arriving on an infected ship have the right to demand of the sanitary authority of the port a certificate showing the date of their arrival and the measures to which they and their baggage have been subjected.

Packet boats subject to special regulations.

ARTICLE XXXIV. Packet boats shall be subjected to special regulations, to be established by mutual agreement between the countries in interest.

Sanitary equipments for certain ports.

ARTICLE XXXV. Without prejudice to the right which governments possess to agree upon the organization of common sanitary stations, each country should provide at least one port upon each of its seaboard, with an organization and equipment sufficient to receive a vessel, whatever may be its sanitary condition.

Indemne vessels from infected ports.

When an indemne vessel, coming from an infected port, arrives in a large mercantile port, it is recommended that she be not sent to another port for the execution of the prescribed sanitary measures.

In every country, ports liable to the arrival of vessels from ports infected with plague, cholera or yellow fever, should be equipped in such a manner that indemne vessels may there undergo, immediately upon their arrival the prescribed measures, and not be sent for this purpose to another port.

Declaration concerning open ports.

Governments should make declaration of the ports which are open in their territories to arrivals from ports infected with plague, cholera or yellow fever.

Medical service, etc., in large seaports.

ARTICLE XXXVI. It is recommended that in large seaports there be established:

(a) A regular medical service and a permanent medical supervision of the sanitary conditions of crews, and the inhabitants of the port.

(b) Places set apart for the isolation of the sick and the observation of suspected persons. In the stegomyia belt there must be a building or part of a building screened against mosquitoes, and a launch and ambulance similarly screened.

(c) The necessary installation for efficient disinfection and bacteriological laboratories.

(d) A supply of potable water above suspicion, for the use of the port, and the installation of a system of sewerage and drainage, adequate for the removal of refuse.

Section IV. Measures upon land frontiers.—Travelers.—Railroads.—Frontier Zones.—
River Routes. Measures for frontier zones, etc.

ARTICLE XXXVII. Land quarantines should no longer be established, but the governments reserve the right to establish camps of observation if they should be thought necessary for the temporary detention of suspects. Temporary detention of suspects.

This principle does not exclude the right for each country to close a part of its frontier in case of necessity.

ARTICLE XXXVIII. It is important that travelers should be submitted to a surveillance on the part of the personnel of railroads, to determine their condition of health. Surveillance of railroad passengers.

ARTICLE XXXIX. Medical intervention is limited to a visit (inspection) with the taking of temperature of travelers, and the succor to be given to those actually sick. If this visit is made, it should be combined as much as possible with the customhouse inspection to the end that travelers may be detained as short a time as possible. Only persons evidently sick should be subjected to a searching medical examination. Limitations on medical intervention.

ARTICLE XL. As soon as travelers, coming from an infected locality, shall have arrived at their destination, it would be of the greatest utility to submit them to a surveillance which should not exceed ten or five days, counting from the date of departure, the time depending upon whether it is a question of plague or cholera. In case of yellow fever the period should be six days. Surveillance of persons from infected districts.

ARTICLE XLI. Governments may reserve to themselves the right to take particular measures in regard to certain classes of persons, notably vagabonds, emigrants and persons traveling or passing the frontier in bands. Emigrants, etc.

ARTICLE XLII. Coaches intended for the transportation of passengers and mails should not be retained at frontiers. Passenger and mail cars not to be retained, etc.

In order to avoid this retention a system of relays ought to be established at frontiers, with transfer of passengers, baggage and mails. If one of these carriages be infected or shall have been occupied by a person suffering from plague, cholera or yellow fever, it shall be detached from the train for disinfection at the earliest possible moment.

ARTICLE XLIII. Measures concerning the passing of frontiers by the personnel of railroads and of the Post Office are a matter for agreement of the sanitary authorities concerned. These measures should be so arranged as not to hinder the service. Railroad and post-office personnel.

ARTICLE XLIV. The regulation of frontier traffic, as well as the adoption of exceptional measures of surveillance should be left to special arrangement between contiguous countries. Regulation of frontier traffic, etc.

ARTICLE XLV. The power rests with governments of countries bordering upon rivers to regulate by special arrangement the sanitary regime of river routes. River routes.

ARTICLES RELATING TO YELLOW FEVER.

ARTICLE XLVI. Ships infected with yellow fever are to be subjected to the following regulations: Yellow-fever regu-tions.

1. Medical visit (Inspection).
2. The sick are to be immediately disembarked, protected by netting against the access of mosquitoes and transferred to the place of isolation in an ambulance or a litter similarly screened.
3. Other persons should also be disembarked if possible, and subjected to an observation of six days, dating from the day of arrival.
4. In the place set apart for observation, there shall be screened apartments or cages where anyone presenting an elevation of temperature above 37.6 degrees Centigrade shall be screened until he may be carried in the manner indicated above to the place of isolation. Infected ships.

5. The ship shall be moored at least two hundred metres from the inhabited shore.

6. The ship shall be fumigated for the destruction of mosquitoes before the discharge of cargo, if possible. If a fumigation be not possible before the discharge of the cargo, the health authorities shall order, either

(a) The employment of immune persons for discharging the cargo, or

(b) If non-immunes be employed they shall be kept under observation during the discharging of cargo and for six days, to date from the last day of exposure on board.

Suspected ships.

ARTICLE XLVII. Ships suspected of yellow fever are to be subjected to the measures which are indicated in Nos. 1, 3 and 5 of the preceding article; and, if not fumigated, the cargo shall be discharged as directed under sub-paragraph (a) or (b) of the same article.

Ships indemne.

ARTICLE XLVIII. Ships indemne from yellow fever, coming from an infected port, after the medical visit (inspection), shall be admitted to free pratique, provided the duration of the trip has exceeded six days.

If the trip be shorter, the ship shall be considered as suspected until the completion of a period of six days, dating from the day of departure.

If a case of yellow fever develop during the period of observation, the ship shall be considered as infected.

Immunes.

ARTICLE XLIX. All persons who can prove their immunity to yellow fever, to the satisfaction of the health authorities shall be permitted to land at once.

English text.

ARTICLE L. It is agreed that in the event of a difference of interpretation of the English and Spanish texts, the interpretation of the English text shall prevail.

TRANSITORY DISPOSITION.

Adherence.

The governments which may not have signed the present Convention are to be admitted to adherence thereto upon demand; notice of this adherence to be given through diplomatic channels to the government of the United States of America and by the latter to the other signatory governments.

Signatures.

Made and signed in the City of Washington on the 14th day of the month of October, nineteen hundred and five, in two copies, in English and Spanish respectively, which shall be deposited in the State Department of the Government of the United States of America, in order that certified copies thereof, in both English and Spanish, may be made to transmit them through diplomatic channels to each one of the signatory countries.

CAPÍTULO I.

Regulations.

Prescripciones que deberán observar los países signatarios de la Convención cuando el cólera, la peste ó la fiebre amarilla aparezca en su territorio.

Sección primera—Notificación y comunicaciones ulteriores á los otros países.

Notification of plague, etc.

ARTÍCULO I. Cada Gobierno debe notificar inmediatamente á los otros la primera aparición, en su territorio, de los casos confirmados de peste, cólera ó de fiebre amarilla.

Additional information.

ART. II. Esta notificación irá acompañada ó muy prontamente seguida de informes circunstanciados sobre:

- (1) Lugar en donde la enfermedad apareció.
- (2) Fecha de su aparición, origen y forma.
- (3) Número de casos comprobados y de defunciones.
- (4) Para la peste: la existencia, entre las ratas y ratones, de la peste ó de una mortalidad insólita; y para la fiebre amarilla: la existencia del Stegomyia fasciata en la localidad.
- (5) Las medidas tomadas inmediatamente después de esta primera aparición.

To whom sent.

ART. III. La notificación y las informaciones indicadas en los artículos I y II serán dirigidas á los agentes diplomáticos ó consulares en la capital del país contaminado, sin que esto sea obstáculo para que los jefes de las oficinas sanitarias superiores se comuniquen estas noticias entre sí directamente.

Á los países que no tengan representación diplomática ó consular en el país contaminado, les serán transmitidas directamente, por telégrafo.

Further communications.

ART. IV. La notificación y las informaciones indicadas en los artículos I y II serán seguidas de comunicaciones ulteriores hechas de un modo regular, de manera de tener á los Gobiernos al corriente del curso de la epidemia.

Estas comunicaciones que se harán á lo menos una vez por semana y que serán tan completas como sea posible, indicarán muy particularmente las precauciones tomadas con el objeto de impedir la extensión de la enfermedad.

Ellas deben precisar: (1) las medidas profilácticas adoptadas con respecto á la inspección sanitaria ó á la visita médica, al aislamiento y á la desinfección; (2) las medidas tomadas á la partida de los buques para impedir la exportación del mal y, especialmente, en el caso previsto por el inciso (4) del artículo II arriba mencionado, las medidas tomadas contra las ratas, ratones y mosquitos.

ART. V. El pronto y fiel cumplimiento de las prescripciones que preceden es de una importancia primordial. Prompt notification required.

Las notificaciones no tienen valor real sino cuando cada Gobierno está prevenido, á tiempo, de los casos de peste, de cólera y de fiebre amarilla, y de los casos dudosos sobrevenidos en su territorio. Se recomienda pues encarecidamente á los diversos Gobiernos que hagan obligatoria la declaración de los casos de peste, de cólera y de fiebre amarilla, y que obtengan informaciones sobre cualquiera mortalidad insólita en las ratas ó ratones, particularmente en los puertos.

ART. VI. Se entiende que los países vecinos se reservan el derecho de hacer arreglos especiales con el objeto de organizar un servicio de informaciones directos entre los jefes de las administraciones de las fronteras. Special arrangements for direct information.

Sección segunda—Condiciones que permiten considerar una circunscripción territorial como contaminado ó como libre ya de la enfermedad.

ART. VII. La notificación de un primer caso de peste ó cólera ó de fiebre amarilla no impone, contra la circunscripción territorial en donde se ha producido, la aplicación de las medidas previstas en el capítulo II, que más adelante se declararán. Conditions affecting certain territorial area.

Pero cuando varios casos de peste ó uno de fiebre amarilla no importados, se han manifestado, ó cuando los casos de cólera forman foco, la circunscripción se declara contaminada.

ART. VIII. Para restringir las medidas únicamente á las regiones atacadas, los Gobiernos no deben aplicarlas sino á las procedencias de las circunscripciones contaminadas. Limiting measures to affected regions.

Se entiende por la palabra circunscripción, una parte del territorio bien determinada en las informaciones que acompañen ó sigan á la notificación, así: una provincia, un estado, un "gobierno," un distrito, un departamento, un cantón, una isla, una comuna, una ciudad, un barrio de una ciudad, una aldea, un puerto, un polder, una aglomeración, etc., cualesquiera que sean la extensión y la población de esas porciones de territorio. "Meaning of word "area."

Pero esta restricción limitada á la circunscripción contaminada, no debe ser aceptada, sino con la condición formal de que el Gobierno del país contaminado, tome las medidas necesarias: (1) para prevenir, á menos de desinfección previa, la exportación de los objetos á que se refieren los incisos (1) y (2) del artículo II, procedentes de la circunscripción contaminada; y (2) para combatir la extensión de la epidemia y con la condición de que no haya duda de que las autoridades sanitarias del país infectado han cumplido fielmente con el artículo I de esta Convención. Preventive measures by country affected.

Cuando una circunscripción esté contaminada, no se tomará ninguna medida restrictiva contra las procedencias de esa circunscripción, si esas procedencias las han abandonado cinco días al menos antes del principio de la epidemia.

ART. IX. Para que una circunscripción no se considere ya como contaminada, se necesita la comprobación oficial: (1) de que no ha habido ni defunciones ni caso nuevo de peste ó de cólera, desde hace cinco días, sea después del aislamiento<sup>1</sup>, sea después de la muerte ó de la curación del último pestoso ó colérico; en el caso de fiebre amarilla el período será de dieciocho días; pero los Gobiernos se reservan el derecho de prolongar este período. (2) que todas las medidas de desinfección han sido aplicadas, y si se trata de peste, que se han ejecutado las medidas contra las ratas, y si de fiebre amarilla que se han ejecutado las medidas contra el mosquito. Official proof of non-inspection.

Por la palabra "aislamiento," tratándose de fiebre amarilla, se entenderá: aislamiento del enfermo en una sala que tenga sus puertas y ventanas provistas de mallas de alambre que impidan que los mosquitos puedan picar á los enfermos.

CAPÍTULO II.

fected territories.MEDIDAS DE DEFENSA TOMADAS POR LOS OTROS
PAÍSES CONTRA LOS TERRITORIOS DECLARADOS CON-TAMINADOS.

Sección primera—Publicación de las medidas prescritas.

No son peligrosas sino en el caso en que hayan sido contaminadas por productos pestosos ó coléricos, y en el caso de fiebre amarilla cuando sean susceptibles de conducir mosquitos.

Fumigating transportation vehicles.

ART. XII. Ninguna mercancía ú objeto será sometido á desinfección en caso de fiebre amarilla, pero en el caso previsto al fin del artículo anterior, la desinfección puede hacerse á fin de destruir los mosquitos. En caso de cólera, ó de peste, la desinfección no deberá aplicarse más que á las mercancías y objetos que la autoridad sanitaria local considere como contaminados.

Disinfecting, etc.,

Sin embargo, las mercancías y objetos enumerados más adelante pueden ser sometidos á la desinfección y aun prohibida su entrada, independientemente de toda comprobación, de que están ó no contaminados:

Body linen, etc.

De la misma manera, cuando las mercancías ú objetos son transportados de modo que en el camino no hayan podido estar en contacto con los objetos contaminados, su tránsito á través de una circunscripción territorial contaminada, no debe ser un obstáculo para su entrada al país de destino.

Articles not prohibited.

ART. XIV. Las mercancías y objetos especificados en los incisos (1) y (2) del artículo XII, no caen bajo la aplicación de las medidas de prohibición á la entrada, si se demuestra, á la autoridad del país de destino, que han sido expedidos cinco días al menos antes del principio de la epidemia.

ART. XV. El modo y el sitio de la desinfección, á la llegada de las mercancías, así como los procedimientos que deberán emplearse para asegurar la destrucción de las ratas y mosquitos, se fijarán por la autoridad del país de destino. Estas operaciones deberán hacerse de manera de deteriorar los objetos lo menos posible.

Destroying rats and mosquitos.

Corresponde á cada país arreglar la cuestión relativa al pago eventual de indemnización que resultare de la desinfección ó de la destrucción de las ratas ó mosquitos.

Damages.

Si, con ocasión de las medidas tomadas para asegurar la destrucción de las ratas ó los mosquitos á bordo de los buques, la autoridad sanitaria percibiere algún impuesto, sea directamente, sea por intermedio de una sociedad ó de un particular, el monto de este impuesto deberá fijarse por una tarifa publicada de antemano y establecida de manera que no pueda resultar de su aplicación una fuente de beneficios para el país ó para la administración sanitaria.

ART. XVI. Las cartas y correspondencia, impresos, libros, periódicos, papeles de negocios, etc., (no comprendiendo las encomiendas postales, ("colis postaux"), no se someterán á ninguna restricción ni desinfección. ART. XVII. Las mercancías que lleguen por tierra ó por mar, no podrán ser retenidas en las fronteras ni en los puertos.

Merchandise at frontier ports.

Las únicas medidas que se permitirá prescribir respecto á aquéllas, quedan especificadas en el artículo XII.

Sin embargo, si las mercancías que llegan por mar á granel ("vrac") ó en embalajes defectuosos han sido, durante la travesía, contaminadas por ratas que se reconozcan como apestadas, y si no pueden aquéllas ser desinfectadas, la destrucción de los gérmenes puede asegurarse depositando las mercancías por el tiempo que determine la autoridad sanitaria en el puerto de llegada.

Merchandise contaminated during transit.

Se entiende que la aplicación de esta última medida no deberá traer consigo ni detención para la nave, ni gastos extraordinarios que resulten de la falta de almacenes en los puertos.

ART. XVIII. Cuando las mercancías han sido desinfectadas, por aplicación de las prescripciones del artículo XII ó puestas en depósito temporal, en virtud del párrafo tercero del artículo XVII, el propietario ó su representante tiene el derecho de reclamar de la autoridad sanitaria que ha ordenado la desinfección ó el depósito, un certificado que indique las medidas tomadas.

Classification of vessels.

Se considera como sospechosa la nave á bordo de la cual ha habido casos de peste ó de cólera en el momento de la partida ó durante la travesía, pero en la cual no se ha declarado ningún caso nuevo desde hace siete días. Serán también sospechosos, tratándose de fiebre amarilla, los buques que hayan permanecido en tal proximidad á las costas infectadas, que haya hecho posible la entrada de mosquitos en ellos.

Se considera como indemne, aun cuando llegue de puerto contaminado, una nave que no ha tenido ni defunciones ni casos de peste, de cólera ó de fiebre amarilla á bordo, sea antes de la partida, sea durante la travesía ó en el momento de la llegada, y que, en el caso de fiebre amarilla, no se haya aproximado á la costa infectada á una distancia suficiente, á juicio de las autoridades sanitarias, para recibir mosquitos.

Plague infected ships.

ART. XXI. Los buques infectados de peste se someterán al régimen siguiente:

(1) Visita médica (inspección);
(2) Los enfermos serán desembarcados inmediatamente y aislados;

(3) Las otras personas deben ser igualmente desembarcadas, si es posible, y sometidas, á contar desde la llegada, á una observación<sup>1</sup> que no excederá de cinco días.

(4) La ropa sucia, los efectos de uso y los objetos de la tripulación<sup>2</sup> y de los pasajeros que, según el parecer de la autoridad sanitaria, sean considerados como contaminados, deben ser desinfectados.

(6) La destrucción de las ratas del buque debe efectuarse, antes ó después de la descarga, lo más rápidamente posible, y, en todo caso, en un plazo máximo de 48 horas, evitando deteriorar las mercancías, el buque ó las máquinas.

Para los buques en lastre, esta operación debe hacerse lo más pronto posible antes de la carga.

Suspected ships.

ART. XXII. Los buques sospechosos de peste se someterán á las medidas indicadas en los números 1, 4 y 5 del Art. XXI.

Además, la tripulación y los pasajeros pueden ser sometidos á una observación que no excederá de cinco días, á partir de la llegada del buque. Se puede, durante el mismo tiempo, impedir el desembarque de la tripulación, siempre que no lo exija el servicio. Se recomienda destruir las ratas del buque. Esta operación se efectuará antes ó después de la descarga lo más rápidamente posible, y en todo caso, en una dilación máxima de 48 horas, evitando deteriorar las mercancías, el buque ó las máquinas.

Para los buques en lastre esta operación se hará, si hay lugar, lo más pronto posible, y en todo caso antes de la carga.

Noninfected ships.

ART. XXIII. Las naves indemnes de peste serán admitidas á libre plática inmediatamente, cualquiera que sea la naturaleza de su patente.

Measures at port of arrival.

El único régimen que puede establecer la autoridad sanitaria del puerto de llegada, consiste en:

(1) Visita médica (inspección);
(2) Desinfección de la ropa sucia, efectos de uso y otros objetos de la tripulación y de los pasajeros, pero solamente en los casos excepcionales, cuando la autoridad sanitaria tenga razones especiales para creer en su contaminación;

Esta operación deberá hacerse tan pronto como sea posible y en todo caso no deberá durar más de 24 horas, evitando deteriorar las mercancías, el buque ó las máquinas y estorbar la circulación de los pasajeros, ó la tripulación entre el buque y la costa. Para los buques en lastre se procederá, si hay lugar, á esta operación lo más pronto posible y, en todo caso, antes de la carga.

Cuando un buque procedente de un puerto contaminado haya sido sometido á la destrucción de las ratas, esta operación no podrá ser renovada sino cuando el buque ha hecho escala en un puerto contaminado, amarrándose á un muelle, ó si la presencia de las ratas muertas ó enfermas se ha comprobado á bordo.

La tripulación y los pasajeros pueden ser sometidos á una vigilancia que no excederá de 5 días á contar de la fecha en que el buque salió del puerto contaminado.

Se puede igualmente durante el mismo tiempo impedir el desembarque de la tripulación, excepto por causa del servicio.

La autoridad competente del puerto de llegada puede siempre reclamar bajo juramento un certificado del médico de á bordo, ó en su defecto del capitán, que atestigüe que no ha habido caso de peste en la nave desde su partida, y que no se ha observado mortalidad insólita de ratas.

ART. XXIV. Cuando en una nave indemne, después de examen bacteriológico se ha averiguado que hay á bordo ratas apestadas, ó bien cuando se comprueba una mortalidad insólita en estos roedores, habrá que aplicar las siguientes medidas:

(c) Las partes del buque y los objetos que la autoridad sanitaria local considere contaminados serán desinfectados.

(c) Si la destrucción de ratas se juzga necesaria, se hará en las condiciones antes indicadas, con respecto á los buques con ratas apestadas.

(d) Hasta que toda sospecha se haya disipado, los pasajeros y la tripulación pueden ser sometidos á una observación que no exceda de cinco días contados á partir de la fecha de llegada, salvo en casos excepcionales en los que la autoridad sanitaria puede prolongar la observación hasta un máximo de 10 días.

ART. XXV. La autoridad sanitaria del puerto entregará al capitán, al armador ó á su agente, siempre que se le pida, un certificado en el que conste que las medidas de destrucción de las ratas han sido efectuadas y que indique las razones por las cuales estas medidas han sido aplicadas.

La tripulación y los pasajeros pueden ser sometidos, desde el punto de vista del estado de salud, á una observación que no excederá de 5 días, contados desde la fecha en que el buque salió del puerto contaminado.

Es de recomendarse que se impida, durante el mismo espacio de tiempo, el desembarque de la tripulación, salvo por razones del servicio.

En lo que se refiere á la peste, tendrá también en cuenta la instalación á bordo, de aparatos destinados á la destrucción de las ratas.

Las autoridades sanitarias de los países á los cuales convenga entenderse sobre este punto, podrán dispensar de la visita médica y de otras medidas á las naves indemnes que tuvieren á bordo un médico especialmente comisionado por su país.

Emigrants, etc., ships.

ART. XXX. Pueden prescribirse medidas especiales para los buques en que haya aglomeración, particularmente para las naves de emigrantes ó para cualquiera otro buque que ofrezca malas condiciones higiénicas.

Ships objecting to enforcement of restrictive measures.

ART. XXXI. Toda nave que no quiera someterse á las obligaciones impuestas por la autoridad del puerto en virtud de las estipulaciones de la presente Convención, queda en libertad de volverse á la mar.

Puede ser autorizada á desembarcar sus mercancías después de haber tomado las siguientes precauciones:

- (2) En lo que concierne á la peste, pedir informaciones relativas á la existencia de una mortalidad insólita entre las ratas.
- (3) En lo que concierne al cólera, hacer la evacuación del agua de la cala, después de su desinfección, y substitución de una buena agua potable á la que esté almacenada á bordo.

Puede igualmente ser autorizada á desembarcar á los pasajeros que lo soliciten, á condición de que éstos se sujeten á las medidas prescritas por la autoridad local.

ART. XXXII. Las naves de una procedencia contaminada, que han sido desinfectadas y que han sido objeto de medidas sanitarias aplicadas de una manera suficiente, no sufrirán una segunda vez estas medidas á su llegada á un puerto nuevo, á condición de que no se haya producido ningún caso después que se practicó la desinfección y que no hayan hecho escala en un puerto contaminado.

Disinfected vessels arriving from infected ports.

Cuando un buque desembarque solamente pasajeros y sus equipajes ó las valijas del correo, sin haber estado en comunicación con la costa, no debe considerársele como habiendo tocado el puerto, y;

En el caso de fiebre amarilla, cuando no se haya aproximado suficientemente á la costa para recibir mosquitos á bordo.

ART. XXXIII. Los pasajeros llegados en una nave infectada, tienen la facultad de reclamar de la autoridad sanitaria del puerto un certificado que indique la fecha de su llegada y las medidas á las cuales han sido sometidos ellos y sus equipajes.

Sanitary equipments at certain ports.

Cuando un buque indemne procedente de un puerto contaminado llegue á un gran puerto de navegación marítima, se recomienda no enviarlo á otro puerto con el objeto de que se someta á las medidas sanitarias prescritas.

Indemne vessels from infected ports.

En cada país, los puertos abiertos á las procedencias de otros, contaminados de peste, de cólera ó de fiebre amarilla, deben estar provistos de tal manera, que los buques indemnes puedan sufrir allí, desde su llegada, las medidas prescritas y no sean remitidos para este efecto á otro puerto.

Los Gobiernos harán conocer los puertos que hayan abierto á las procedencias de otros, infectados de peste, de cólera ó de fiebre amarilla.

Camps of observation. ART. XXXVII. No se deben establecer cuarentenas terrestres, pero los Gobiernos se reservan el derecho de establecer campamentos de observación, si los consideran necesarios, para la detención temporal de los sospechosos.

Este principio no excluye el derecho de cada país de cerrar, cuando lo necesite, una parte de sus fronteras.

Si esta visita se hace, se combinará hasta donde fuere posible, con la visita aduanera, de modo que los viajeros sean detenidos el menor tiempo posible. Las personas visiblemente enfermas serán las únicas que se someterán á un exámen médico completo.

Surveillance of persons from infected districts. ART. XL. Cuando los viajeros procedentes de un lugar contaminado han llegado á su destino, sería de la mayor utilidad someterlos á una vigilancia que no exceda de 10 ó 5 días á contar de la fecha de partida, según que se trate respectivamente de peste ó de cólera, y de 6 días en caso de fiebre amarilla.

Emigrants, etc. ART. XLI. Los Gobiernos se reservan el derecho de tomar medidas particulares en relación con determinadas categorías de personas, particularmente con los vagabundos, los emigrantes ó los que atraviesan la frontera en grandes grupos ó en bandas.

Á fin de que los coches que transportan los viajeros y el correo no puedan ser retenidos, se hará que los coches que llegan de la circunscripción infectada se detengan en la frontera y que los pasajeros se trasborden á los coches que lleguen á la frontera del otro lado.

Si sucediera que uno de esos coches se hubiere contaminado ó hubiere sido ocupado por un enfermo atacado de peste, de cólera ó de fiebre amarilla, será desprendido del tren para ser desinfectado lo más pronto posible.

Railroad and post-office employees. ART. XLIII. Las medidas concernientes al paso por las fronteras del personal de los ferrocarriles y del correo, son de la competencia de las autoridades sanitarias interesadas. Se combinarán de modo de no estorbar el servicio.

Regulating frontier traffic, etc. ART. XLIV. La reglamentación del tráfico fronterizo y de las cuestiones inherentes á este tráfico, así como la adopción de medidas excepcionales de vigilancia, deberán sujetarse á arreglos especiales entre las naciones limítrofes.

ARTÍCULOS REFERENTES Á LA FIEBRE AMARILLA.

ART. XLVI. Con respecto á los buques infectados de fiebre amarilla, se adoptará el régimen siguiente:

1. Visita médica, (inspección).
2. Los enfermos serán desembarcados inmediatamente en una lancha protegida contra los mosquitos por tela de alambre, y conducidos al lugar de aislamiento en una ambulancia ó camilla igualmente protegida contra los mosquitos.

3. Las demás personas deben ser también desembarcadas, si es posible, y sometidas á una observación de seis días, á contar desde el de la llegada.

4. En los campamentos de observación habrá casetas ó jaulas alambradas donde se recluirá inmediatamente á toda persona que presente una temperatura superior á 37°.6 C., hasta que se le pueda conducir en la ambulancia ó camilla ad hoc al lugar de aislamiento.

5. El buque deberá anclar á una distancia de doscientos metros, por lo menos, de tierra habitada.

6. Siempre que sea posible se fumigará el buque contra los mosquitos, antes de la descarga, pero si la fumigación no fuese practicable, la autoridad sanitaria podrá disponer uno de estos dos medios, á saber:

(a) El empleo para la descarga de un personal inmune, ó (b), si esto fuese imposible, se sujetará á observación el personal de descarga durante el tiempo de ésta y por seis días más á contar desde el último de exposición á bordo.

ART. XLVII. Los buques sospechosos de fiebre amarilla serán sometidos á las medidas indicadas en los incisos 1, 3 y 5 del artículo anterior, y cuando no sean fumigados se descargarán mediante los requisitos señalados en el párrafo (a) ó (b) de dicho artículo.

PROCLAMATIONS.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

March 11, 1907.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, it is provided by section two of the Act of Congress, approved June 8, 1906, entitled, "An act for the preservation of American Antiquities", "That the President of the United States is hereby authorized, in his discretion, to declare by public proclamation historic land marks, historic and prehistoric structures, and other objects of historic or scientific interest that are situated upon the lands owned or controlled by the Government of the United States to be National Monuments, and may reserve as a part thereof parcels of land, the limits of which in all cases shall be confined to the smallest area compatible with the proper care and management of the objects to be protected";

Chaco Canyon
National Monument,
N. Mex.
Preamble.
Vol. 34, p. 225.

And whereas, the extensive prehistoric communal or pueblo ruins in San Juan and McKinley Counties, Territory of New Mexico, principally embraced within the Chaco Canyon and generally known as the Chaco Canyon ruins, situated upon the public lands owned and controlled by the United States, are of extraordinary interest because of their number and their great size and because of the innumerable and valuable relics of a prehistoric people which they contain, and it appears that the public good would be promoted by reserving these prehistoric remains as a National Monument with as much land as may be necessary for the proper protection thereof.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the power in me vested by section two of the aforesaid act of Congress, do hereby set aside as the Chaco Canyon National Monument, subject to any valid and existing rights, the prehistoric ruins and burial grounds situated in San Juan County, New Mexico, more particularly located and described as follows, to wit:

National Monument,
New Mexico.

Sections 7 and 8 and sections 16 to 29, inclusive, township 21 north, range 10; sections 1, 2, 3 and 4, sections 8 to 14 inclusive, and sections 17, 19, 20 and 30 in township 21 north, range 11; the south half of section 12 in township 20 north, range 8; the south east quarter of section 32 in township 21 north, range 12; the south east quarter of section 28 in township 17 north, range 12; the south east quarter of section 17 in township 17 north, range 10, all west of the New Mexico Principal Meridian, New Mexico, as shown upon the map hereto attached and made a part of this proclamation.

Boundaries.

Warning is hereby expressly given to all unauthorized persons, not to appropriate, excavate, injure or destroy any of the prehistoric ruins or remains hereby declared to be a National Monument or to locate or settle upon any of the lands reserved and made a part of said monument by this proclamation.

Reserved from settlement, etc.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

nation. We believe that in ability to develop and take advantage of these resources the average man of this nation stands at least as high as the average man of any other. Nowhere else in the world is there such an opportunity for a free people to develop to the fullest extent all its powers of body, of mind, and of that which stands above both body and mind, character. Much has been given us from on high and much will rightly be expected of us in return. Into our care the ten talents have been entrusted; and we are to be pardoned neither if we squander and waste them, nor yet if we hide them in a napkin; for they must be fruitful in our hands. Ever thruout the ages, at all times and among all peoples, prosperity has been fraught with danger, and it behooves us to beseech the Giver of All Things that we may not fall into love of ease and of luxury; that we may not lose our sense of moral responsibility; that we may not forget our duty to God and to our neighbor. A great democracy like ours, a democracy based upon the principles of orderly liberty, can be perpetuated only if in the heart of the ordinary citizen there dwells a keen sense of righteousness and justice. We should earnestly pray that this spirit of righteousness and justice may grow ever greater in the hearts of all of us, and that our souls may be inclined ever more both toward the virtues that tell for gentleness and tenderness, for loving kindness and forbearance one with another, and toward those no less necessary virtues that make for manliness and rugged hardihood—for without these qualities neither nation nor individual can rise to the level of greatness.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do set apart Thursday, the 28th day of November, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and on that day I recommend that the people shall cease from their daily work, and, in their homes or in their churches, meet devoutly to thank the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received in the past, and to pray that they may be given the strength so to order their lives as to deserve a continuation of these blessings in the future.

Thursday, November 28, 1907, set apart as a day of national thanksgiving.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixt.

Done at the City of Washington this twenty-fifth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and [SEAL.] seven and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and thirty-second.

Oklahoma.
 Preamble.
 Vol. 34, p. 267.

WHEREAS the Congress of the United States did by an act approved on the sixteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and six, provide that the inhabitants of the Territory of Oklahoma and of the Indian Territory might, under and upon the conditions prescribed in said act, adopt a constitution and become the State of Oklahoma:

AND WHEREAS by the said act provision was duly made for the election of a Constitutional Convention to form a constitution and state government for the said proposed State; and whereas it appears from the information laid before me that such Convention was duly elected and such constitution and state government were thereby duly formed:

AND WHEREAS by he said act the said Convention was further authorized and empowered to provide by ordinance for submitting the said constitution to the people of the said State for ratification or rejection, and likewise for the ratification or rejection of any provisions thereof to be by the said Convention separately submitted:

AND WHEREAS it has been certified to me, as required by the said act, by the Governor of the Territory of Oklahoma and by the Judge senior in service of the United States Court of Appeals for the Indian Territory that a majority of the legal votes cast at an election duly provided for by ordinance, as required by said act, have been cast for the adoption of said constitution; and whereas a copy of the said constitution has been certified to me, as required by said act, together with the articles, propositions and ordinances pertaining thereto, including a separate proposition for state-wide prohibition which has been certified to me as having been adopted by a majority of the electors at the election aforesaid:

AND WHEREAS it appears from the information laid before me that the Convention aforesaid after its organization and before the formation of the said constitution duly declared on behalf of the people of the said proposed State that they adopted the Constitution of the United States:

AND WHEREAS it appears that the said constitution and government of the proposed State of Oklahoma are republican in form and that the said constitution makes no distinction in civil or political rights on account of race or color, and is not repugnant to the Constitution of the United States or to the principles of the Declaration of Independence, and that it contains all of the six provisions expressly required by Section 3 of the said act to be therein contained:

Vol. 34, p. 269.

AND WHEREAS it further appears from the information laid before me that the Convention above mentioned did by ordinance irrevocable accept the terms and conditions of the said act as required by Section 22 thereof, and that all the provisions of the said act approved on the sixteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and six, have been duly complied with:

Vol. 34, p. 278.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, THEODORE ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do, in accordance with the provisions of the said act of Congress of June sixteenth, one thousand nine hundred and six, declare and announce that the result of the said election, wherein the Constitution formed as aforesaid was submitted to the people of the proposed State of Oklahoma for ratification or rejection, was that the said Constitution was ratified together with a provision for state-wide prohibition, separately submitted at the said election; and the State of Oklahoma is to be deemed admitted by Congress into the Union under and by virtue of the said act on an equal footing with the original States:

WHEREAS, the group of cliff-dwellings, known as the Gila Hot Springs Cliff-Houses, which is situated upon public land in the Mollon Mountains, within the Gila National Forest, in the Territory of New Mexico, is of exceptional scientific and educational interest, being the best representative of the Cliff-Dwellers' remains of that region, and it appears that the public interest would be promoted by reserving these ruins as a National Monument, with as much land as may be necessary for the proper protection thereof;

National monument, New Mexico. Vol. 34, p. 225.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the power in me vested by section two of the Act of Congress, approved June eighth, nineteen hundred and six, entitled, "An Act For the preservation of American antiquities," do proclaim that there are hereby reserved from appropriation and use of all kinds under all of the public land laws, subject to all prior valid adverse claims, and set apart as a National Monument, all the tracts of land, in the Territory of New Mexico, shown as the Gila Cliff-Dwellings National Monument on the diagram forming a part hereof.

Forest uses not affected.

The reservation made by this proclamation is not intended to prevent the use of the lands for forest purposes under the proclamation establishing the Gila National Forest, but so far as the two reservations are consistent they are equally effective. In all respects in which they may be inconsistent the National Monument hereby established shall be the dominant reservation.

Reserved from settlement, etc.

1. In order to facilitate the clearance through the Customs Department of the United Kingdom of samples of dutiable goods brought into the territory of the United Kingdom by commercial travellers of the United States of America, such samples being for use as models or patterns for the purpose of obtaining orders, and not for sale, His Majesty's Government agrees that the marks, stamps, or seals placed upon such samples by the Customs authorities of the United States of America at the time of exportation, and the officially attested list of such samples, containing a full description thereof issued by the proper authority, shall be accepted by the Customs officials of the United Kingdom as establishing their character as samples, and exempting them from inspection on importation, except so far as may be necessary to establish that the samples produced are those enumerated on the list. A PROCLAMATION.

The White House,
June 24, 1908.

To the People of the United States:

Grover Cleveland, President of the United States from 1885 to 1889 and again from 1893 to 1897, died at 8:40 o'clock this morning at his home in Princeton, New Jersey. In his death the Nation has been deprived of one of its greatest citizens. By profession a lawyer, his chief services to his country were rendered during his long, varied and honorable career in public life. As Mayor of his city, as Governor of his State, and twice as President, he showed signal power as an administrator, coupled with entire devotion to the country's good and the courage that quailed before no hostility when once he was convinced where his duty lay. Since his retirement from the Presidency he has continued well and faithfully to serve his countrymen by the simplicity, dignity and uprightness of his private life.

Announcing death of Ex-President
Grover Cleveland.

In testimony of the respect in which his memory is held by the government and people of the United States, I do hereby direct that the flags on the White House and the several departmental buildings be displayed at half-staff for a period of thirty days; and that suitable military and naval honors, under the orders of the Secretaries of War and of the Navy, be rendered on the day of the funeral.

A PROCLAMATION.

Once again the season is at hand when, according to the ancient custom of our people, it becomes the duty of the President to appoint a day of prayer and of thanksgiving to God.

Preamble.

Year by year this Nation grows in strength and worldly power. During the century and a quarter that has elapsed since our entry into the circle of independent peoples we have grown and prospered in material things to a degree never known before, and not now known in any other country. The thirteen colonies which straggled along the seacoast of the Atlantic and were hemmed-in but a few miles west of tidewater by the Indian haunted wilderness, have been transformed into the mightiest republic which the world has ever seen. Its domains stretch across the continent from one to the other of the two greatest oceans, and it exercises dominion alike in the arctic and tropic realms. The growth in wealth and population has surpassed even the growth in territory. Nowhere else in the world is the average of individual comfort and material well-being as high as in our fortunate land.

For the very reason that in material well-being we have thus abounded, we owe it to the Almighty to show equal progress in moral and spiritual things. With a nation, as with the individuals who make up a nation, material well-being is an indispensable foundation. But the foundation avails nothing by itself. That life is wasted, and worse than wasted, which is spent in piling, heap upon heap, those things which minister merely to the pleasure of the body and to the power that rests only on wealth. Upon material well-being as a foundation must be raised the structure of the lofty life of the spirit, if this Nation is properly to fulfil its great mission and to accomplish all that we so ardently hope and desire. The things of the body are good; the things of the intellect better; the best of all are the things of the soul; for, in the nation as in the individual, in the long run it is character that counts. Let us therefore as a people set our faces resolutely against evil, and with broad charity, with kindness and good-will toward all men, but with unflinching determination to smite down wrong, strive with all the strength that is given us for righteousness in public and in private life.
