Regular Army Reserve, an enlistment allowance of $24 per annum payable in installments under such regulations and conditions as the President may prescribe. Service in the Regular Army Reserve not on active duty shall confer no right to pay, longevity pay, retirement or retired pay, or any other emoluments upon members thereof except as provided in this section; and members of the Regular Army Reserve shall become entitled to pensions only due to disability incurred while on active duty in the service of the United States. Active duty for such purposes shall be deemed to begin on the date of acceptance for such duty following compliance with the order to report for active duty and shall terminate when relieved or discharged from such duty. Members of the Regular Army Reserve may be ordered to active duty only in case of emergency declared by the President and when so ordered shall be furnished transportation and subsistence allowances at Government expense from their homes within the continental limits of the United States or its possessions to points where ordered to report for active duty. In addition, if found qualified and accepted for active duty following such order they shall receive a sum at the rate of $3 per month for each month they have been enlisted in the Regular Army Reserve but not to exceed $150. While on active duty they shall have the same status and receive only the same pay and allowances provided by law for enlisted men of the active Regular Army of like grade and length of service. In computing length of service for pay purposes, time spent on active duty only will be counted. Within six months after the termination of an emergency declared by the President, they shall be placed in an inactive status or discharged, whichever is appropriate.

"Members of the Regular Army Reserve shall be subject to military law only from the date they are required to obey an order to report for active duty."

Approved, April 25, 1938.
