

PREFACE

The Subclass KB, Religious Law, is currently in the process of being developed by Jolande E. Goldberg, law classification specialist in the Cataloging Policy and Support Office. Subclasses KBR, History of Canon Law, and KBU, Law of the Roman Catholic Church. The Holy See, the first two subclasses to be completed, were published in 2000. The 2004 edition included, in addition to those two subclasses, three new subclasses that were developed between 2000 and 2004: KB, Religious Law in General. Comparative Religious Law. Jurisprudence; KBM, Jewish Law. Halakah; and KBP, Islamic Law. Shari'ah. Fiq. The 2008 edition included additions and changes that had been made to these subclasses between 2004 and 2008. For that edition, Arabic script was provided for many of the proper names and Arabic terms in subclass KBP, in addition to their Latin counterparts. The 2011 edition included two new subclasses that were developed between 2008 and 2011. This 2019 edition updates the 2018 edition.

Classification numbers or spans of numbers that appear in parentheses are formerly valid numbers that are now obsolete. Numbers or spans that appear in angle brackets are optional numbers that have never been used at the Library of Congress but are provided for other libraries that wish to use them. In most cases, a parenthesized or angle-bracketed number is accompanied by a "see" reference directing the user to the actual number that the Library of Congress currently uses, or a note explaining Library of Congress practice.

Access to the online version of the full Library of Congress Classification is available on the World Wide Web by subscription to Classification Web. Details about ordering and pricing may be obtained from the Cataloging Distribution Service at

New or revised numbers and captions are added to the LC Classification schedules as a result of development proposals made by the cataloging staff of the Library of Congress and cooperating institutions. Upon approval of these proposals by the editorial meeting of the Policy and Standards Division, new classification records are created or existing records are revised in the master classification database. Lists of newly approved or revised classification numbers and captions are posted on the World Wide Web at Jolande Goldberg, law classification specialist, and Libby Dechman, senior cataloging policy specialist in the Policy and Standards Division, are responsible for coordinating the overall intellectual and editorial content of subclass KB. Kent Griffiths, assistant editor of classification schedules, is responsible for creating new classification records, maintaining the master database, and creating index terms for the captions.
