

PREFACE

The schedule for classes E-F, History: America, was the first Library of Congress Classification schedule to be published. The first edition was published in 1901, the second in 1913, and the third in 1958. The latter edition was reprinted in 1965 with supplementary pages of additions and changes to January 1965. Editions published in 1995, 2000, and 2007 cumulated additions and changes made during the periods 1965-1995, 1995-2000, and 2000-2007 respectively. An updated edition was issued in 2011. Annual editions were issued beginning in 2015. This 2021 edition cumulates changes made since the publication of the 2020 edition.

Classification numbers or spans of numbers that appear in parentheses are formerly valid numbers that are now obsolete. Numbers or spans that appear in angle brackets are optional numbers that have never been used at the Library of Congress but are provided for other libraries that wish to use them. In most cases, a parenthesized or angle-bracketed number is accompanied by a "see" reference directing the user to the actual number that the Library of Congress currently uses, or a note explaining Library of Congress practice.

Access to the online version of the full Library of Congress Classification is available on the World Wide Web by subscription to Classification Web. Details about ordering and pricing may be obtained from the Cataloging Distribution Service at

New or revised numbers and captions are added to the LC Classification schedules as a result of development proposals made by the cataloging staff of the Library of Congress and cooperating institutions. Upon approval of these proposals by the editorial meeting of the Policy, Training & Cooperative Programs Division, new classification records are created or existing records are revised in the master classification database. Lists of newly approved or revised classification numbers and captions are posted on the World Wide Web at
