

https://www.loc.gov/item/09021562/

Library of Congress

https://www.loc.gov/item/09021562/

https://www.loc.gov/item/09021562/

		d.
	washing and a second 2.28
C O N T E N T	S.
Number I	PAGE
I. Introduction.	I
II. Concerning Dangers from foreign Force and Influence.	6
III. The fame Subject continued.	11
IV. The same Subject continued.	16
V. The fame Subject continued.	21
VI. Concerning Dangers from War between the States.	25
VII. The Subject continued and particular Causes enumerated.	33
VIII. The Effects of internal War in producing standing Armies and other Institutions unfriendly to Liberty.	40
IX. The Utility of the Union as a Safeguard against domestic Faction and Insurrection. X. The same Subject continued.	46 52
Ham XI. The Utility of the Union in respect	5-
to Commerce and a Navy.	62
XII. The Utility of the Union in respect to Revenue. XIII. The fame Subject continued, with	- 70
a View to Economy.	76
XIV. An Objection drawn from the Ex-
XV. Concerning the Defects of the pre- fent Confederation, in Relation to the Principle of Legislation		213 for the States in their collective Capacities.	86
XVI. The same Subject continued, in Relation to the same Principle.	95 -
XVII. Th
		HARRIE A
	-

Number Number XVII. The Subject continued, and illustrated by Examples to show the Tendency of Federal Governments, rather to Anarchy among the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Auswer to an Objection concerning flanding Armics. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXIV. Concerning Taxation. XXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued.	40
Number XVII. The Subject continued, and illustrated by Examples to show the Tendency of Federal Governments, rather to Anarchy among the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the present Constitution. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXIII. The fame Subject continued.
Number XVII. The Subject continued, and illustrated by Examples to show the Tendency of Federal Governments, rather to Anarchy among the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the present Constitution. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXIII. The fame Subject continued.
Number XVII. The Subject continued, and illustrated by Examples to show the Tendency of Federal Governments, rather to Anarchy among the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued.		VI CONTENTO
XVII. The Subject continued, and illustrated by Examples to show the Tendency of Federal Governments, rather to Anarchy among the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the present Constitution. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued.		11 1 1 1 S.
XVII. The Subject continued, and illustrated by Examples to flow the Tendency of Federal Governments, rather to Anarchy among the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Conflitution. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued.
trated by Examples to fhow the Tendency of Federal Governments, rather to Anarchy among the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Confliction. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The neceffity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIV. Concerning the Militia. XXX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued.		XVII. The Subject continued, and illus-
Tendency of Federal Governments, rather to Anarchy among the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Conflictuion. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXIX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued.		trated by Examples to show the ments, rather to Anarchy among the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Conflictation. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject concluded.		Tendency of Federal Govern-
the Members than Tyranny in the Head. XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Confliction. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The neceffity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Auswer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIV. The fame Subject concluded. XXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The same Subject continued. XXXIII. The same Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The same Subject continued. XXXVIV. The same Subject continued. XX		ments, rather to Anarchy among
XVIII. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Confliction. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The neceffity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued.		the Members than Tyranny in
Examples. XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Conflictation. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Auswer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVII. The fame Subject continued. XXXVII. The fame Subject continued. XXXVII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject concluded. Z12		The Head.
XIX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Conflictation. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXXIX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject concluded. Z12 XXXVII. The fame Subject concluded.		A vill. The Subject continued, with farther
Examples. XX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Conflictation. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. Z12 XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. Z13		VIV The Subject continued with Carl
XX. The Subject continued, with farther Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Conflitution. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the same View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXIX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The same Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued.		Hyamples
Examples. XXI. Further Defects of the prefent Conflictution. XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The neceffity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Auswer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXXIX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The same Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The same Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVII. The fame Subject continued. XXXVIII. The fame Subject continued.		XX. The Subject continued with farther
XXI. Further Defects of the present Conflictation. XXII. The same Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Auswer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the same View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the same View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the same View. I61 XXVIII. The subject continued with the same View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXIX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The same Subject continued. XXXII. The same Subject continued. XXXIII. The same Subject continued. XXXIII. The same Subject continued. XXXIII. The same Subject continued. XXXIV. The same Subject continued. XXXIV. The same Subject continued. XXXIV. The same Subject continued. XXXVII. The same Subject concluded.		Hunania
AXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. I32 XXIII. The neceffity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. I55 XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. I61 XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. I68 XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXVII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXXIX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded.		XXI. Further Defects of the present Con-
XXII. The fame Subject continued and concluded. XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the same View. Iss XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. Iss XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. Iss XXVIII. The subject continued with the same View. Iss XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXII. Concerning the Militia. XXXI. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVII. The fame Subject concluded.
XXIII. The necessity of a Government, at least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. ISS XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. ISS XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. IGS XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXXI. Concerning Taxation. ISA XXXI. The fame Subject continued. IGS XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. IGS IGS IGS IGS IGS IGS IGS IG		XXII. The same Subject continued and least equally energetic with the one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the same View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. Ios. XXVIII. The Subject continued with the fame View. Ios. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. Ios. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. Ios. XXXIX. Concerning Taxation. Iss. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. Ios. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. Ios. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. Ios. Ios.
one proposed. XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the same View. Iss XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. Iss XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. Iss XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXIX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXVIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVIII. The fame Subject continued.
XXIV. The Subject continued, with an Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. I61 XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. I68 XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXXX. Concerning Taxation. XXXI. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVII. The fame Subject concluded.
Answer to an Objection concerning standing Armies. XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. Is5 XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. I61 XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. I68 XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXIX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued.
xxv. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. I68 XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXXIX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject continued. XXXVII. The fame Subject continued. XXXVII. The fame Subject concluded.
XXV. The Subject continued with the fame View. ISS XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. ISS XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. ISS XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXXX. Concerning Taxation. XXXI. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. Z12 XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded.
AXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. In the fame Subject concluded. In the fame Subject continued. In the fame Subject co		XXV. The Subject continued with the
XXVI. The Subject continued with the fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. Iordan View. I		C 17'
fame View. XXVII. The Subject continued with the fame View. fame View. fame View. 168 XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXXX. Concerning Taxation. XXXI. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 212 XXXVII. The fame Subject concluded. 219
fame View. XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXXX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded.		fame View. 161
XXVIII. The fame Subject concluded. XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXX. Concerning Taxation. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded.
XXIX. Concerning the Militia. XXX. Concerning Taxation. 184 XXXI. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 212 XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 219		fame View.
XXX. Concerning Taxation. XXXI. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 212
XXXI. The fame Subject continued. XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 212
XXXII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 212
XXXIII. The fame Subject continued. XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 200 205 212 XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 219		XXXII. The same Subject continued. 196
XXXIV. The fame Subject continued. XXXV. The fame Subject continued. XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 205 212 219
XXXV. The fame Subject continued. 212 XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 219
	4	XXXV. The fame Subject continued. 212
THE		XXXVI. The fame Subject concluded. 219
		THE 1 13 15
	16
	0	